Process

I'll send you sketches of the drawing, and you can ask for any suggestions or changes to the piece. If everything is to your liking, you must pay for the drawing before I continue any further. After this phase, any significant changes will cost an additional extra. The price will vary depending on what you'd like to be changed, but the minimum amount is $15. Once everything is completed, I'll send you a dropbox link or email of your commission, and you can download it from there.

Alternate Versions and Character Complexity

If you want your character to have different alternate outfits/versions or if your character has a very detailed design, there is a starting fee depending on the commission.

- $30 for Sketch colors, Flat colors, Chonkers, and PNGtubers
- $50 for Full colors
- $60 for Refsheets
- $100 for 4-Panel Series

I'll charge more depending on complexity or intricate designs.

Major/Minor changes and Errors

As mentioned above, changes can be done during the sketch phase, but up to 4 significant differences. Minor changes such as eye placements or a bigger belly will not be affected.

However, any major changes will be charged after the sketch phase, so please look and think carefully.

If I forget to add something you stated, forgot to color something, used the wrong colors, etc. I will not charge you for those changes. Please let me know as soon as possible if something is wrong.

Refunds

There are no refunds, so be sure you're interested in a commission before messaging me. I am willing to refund you if something happens on my end to where I cannot complete your drawing. I'm also willing to refund if there is an emergency, but only BEFORE the drawing is completed.

Deadlines

I don't have deadlines, but I'll try to get your commission completed as soon as possible. If you're curious about the state of your commission, please feel free to message me. Just know that I could be working with other clients in the meantime.
