Jeff Huddleston graduated from Stayton High School as an outstanding three sport athlete. He continued his education and athletic career at Willamette University where he played baseball and graduated in Recreation Therapy. Jeff returned to Stayton High School to teach the Youth Transition Classes, Leadership, PE, and to develop a career center. Jeff coached girls' basketball, baseball, football, and boys' basketball during his tenure at SHS. Although Jeff will be remembered fondly as an all-state baseball pitcher and for his contribution to our sports programs, the lives he touched far exceeded those whom he coached. He developed the outdoor school program at Stayton that has become a model throughout the state. He was also the driving force behind outdoor experiences that have become such an important part of the educational program at SHS.

Jeff Huddleston was an inspiration to many of his peers as he was always able to find the best in each of his students and bring that to the surface. People felt good about what was accomplished around Jeff because, in his words "there is no such thing as failure, only varying degrees of success."
