SL: If you want to EXPAND your market, than you have to know this!

Dear ...

We are done with some research about your market, and right now we see a big potential in your market niche. Our hypothesis is that we can make you sell up to 20% more all over the world.

Because of the big energy crisis, our team sees potential in your product, and we think your price can compete all over the world.

We are writing to you as a partner who will help you expand your business further.

Here are some examples of copy we write for your project.
