

COMMISSIONS! FROM ME (PROXIBODY) (SEXY VERSION)

INTRO!

- Be clear and be concise with exactly what you are looking for!
- Let me know upfront what your expectations are i.e. if you want me to closely follow your provided reference pics, please make that obvious!
- DO NOT MICROMANAGE! Trying to be in control over every aspect of my production process will only result in a negative experience for the both of us! Please let me work! I have issued refunds to clients over this!
- Please do not just tell me to make a character or body part “bigger” over and over! I have a style! I have a way I like to do things! It’s okay to get what you want, but if you push me far beyond my comfort zone I am unlikely to work with you again in the future!
- In regards to reference pics: YOU DON’T NEED A REF SHEET! I will take multiple sketches from other artists or even text/collage references!
- Most of all, BE CHILL! Have fun! I want things to go as smoothly as possible, and I don’t want anyone feeling rejected or disappointed!

SERVICES!

Example of a “Doodle”

- SKETCHES are higher effort and done in grayscale. I will send the lines to you once before coloring in grayscale, during which changes can be requested, but I ask you to be clear and specific because I do not like making changes more than once. These are currently $100

Example of a “Sketch”

- COLORED SKETCHES follow the same outline as grayscale sketches, but with color and some simple shading. These are currently $120.

Example of a “colored sketch”

NOTES!

- For the sake of my health, I typically limit first-time commissions to single characters, simple prompts, and no background or color (a doodle or sketch). This changes if we have worked together before and I find you easy to work with.

- If we have a good working relationship and have worked together frequently, I am more open to other options and requests, including sequences, color, complex prompts and backgrounds, ect. The additional cost will be assessed on a per case basis, but the usual expectations are:
 - Complex Prompt/Background: +$5
 - Macro elements: +$10
 - Additional Character: +$15

COMMISSION PROCESS!

- When I open for sketches, please DM me and provide your Reference material up front if possible! You do not need a prompt right away, but I do ask you to have your reference ready!
- I use PayPal's invoice system to manage commissions and payment! If this is an issue for you, please bring it up and we can work something else out!
- For sketches, I do lines and grayscale coloring in one go. After I send it to you, if you have minor changes or mistakes to point out, feel free to let me know. But typically, after one back-and-forth, I will not make any further changes.
- For more complex prompts/commissions, you will get the linework back first for initial feedback, and then I will move on to cleaning up/coloring. More major changes can be requested at the linework stage, but after those are implemented I am unlikely to go back and do any more major changes.
- I am FLEXIBLE on this, but I have very little energy each day to work on stuff so please be considerate!

REFUNDS!

I will happily give you a refund if you ask, but just know that - unless it was a catastrophic mistake on my part - you will go onto my LOW PRIORITY LIST for the immediate future!

If I am subject to a chargeback: unless it was a mistake, you will go onto my BLACKLIST, permanently!

TIMELINE!

I take my time with commissions, but everyone needs updates - you are free to request one at any time! If there is some significant delay caused by life issues, I will tweet about it and if it impacts your commission specifically, I will Direct Message you! (make sure your DMs are open!)

HERES MY TRELLO BOARD

I do my absolute best to get everything done within 30 days of closing, and I will work on comms out of order if I need to!

I make mistakes, and if you feel forgotten or feel a need to remind me, DM me immediately!

Just don't pester! No one likes that!
