

Welcome to my diary. This exists for LORE PURPOSES.

Entry 1

The date is August 18th, 2024. Meeting day was today, very excited for that, considering we had a chance to win a bunch of money. I attended the meeting, and apparently what happened between then and my normal activities was a blur. I patrolled around HCZ for a little bit, and manned the Primary HCZ entrance. Overall, just a very calm day, nothing really happened. Came in contact with my buddy Keagan, was doing a 682 test, gave a good read to his document. Couple breaches, whatever. That's all for today, signing off.

Entry 2: Well, I completely forgot to do yesterday's entry. Today's entry is August 20th, 2024. I got back on E11 today, experienced a code one, and helped out a tiny bit with Basic Training. I also decided to attend training so that I could get my promotion. Speaking of promotion, I got promoted to Specialist! Amazing! Anyways, that's all for today. See you tomorrow.

Entry 3: ~~Today is August 21st, 2024. An interesting day today overall, took a few hours more to get to the foundation today. Traffic in pinewood is hell.. Anyways, it's whatever. I decided to take on the duty of Internal Affairs today, wondering what I could do to catch people doing some trouble. A d class called the D block phone during duty, and I picked it up. I Said hi, then he started rambling about some [REDACTED] [REDACTED] It was really weird, was really concerned because I'm pretty sure that was an~~ Entry 3: Today is August 21st, 2024. I don't know what that text above was all about, but I can't really recall today all that well. I can't even recall writing that. I had a sip of vodka earlier, and might've gotten too drunk. Talked to Asmodeus a little bit today, but that's about it. Talk of a D-4580 has been going around recently, don't know why. Must be a special occasion, since word of D-class doesn't get passed around that often unless there's a type blue.

Entry 4: Came into work late today. Today is August 22nd, 2024. I am currently awaiting promotion to Lance Corporal, how fun. Quite literally NOTHING HAPPENED today. A couple breaches, a (bad) CI raid, nothing out of the ordinary. I didn't even get to SEE the breach. Although I did contain the teddy bear, it was letting out class, so yay me!

Entry 5: Well, I've been gone for quite a while. Today is August 27th, 2024. My birthday is coming up soon, yay! Anyways, that's not important. What is important is that I noticed my requirements in the roster weren't up to date, which is unfortunate. A man walked up to me today, I think it was the chief of security, might actually try out for that. Seems fitting for me since I am a big fan of gensec, and what they do.

Addendum 1: Journal was found destroyed on September 10th, 2024. Will notify owner, as they lost it previously.
