

Stewardship

Overview

Purpose:

The leader will learn how important it is to use responsibility and authority to manage the resources entrusted by God. This involves managing present resources with integrity and multiplying resources to build capacity for future growth. The leader will learn about four types of capacity resources and reflect on the stewardship of each.

Resonating Ideas:

A leader who gives adequate consideration to the work as a steward is fully resourced to accomplish the mission he/she is called to lead.
