

SL: can a squirrel sell more nuts than you

Hello Jeff,

I know what you're thinking, "What the nuts is this email about?" But hear me out, because I've got something valuable to tell you that will help you stand out.

Did you know that squirrels hoard nuts for the winter? And they're really good at it. They know how to store them, hide them, and keep them fresh. But the thing is: they're not good at selling them.

The latest method of selling nuts can truly help you stand out in the shifted market of ... . And I'm not talking about just any nuts - I'm talking about your nuts.

But of course I'm not talking about actual squirrels and nuts, I'm talking about product, service , whatever

I made a video breaking down one of your IG captions and showing exactly what key element is missing 👉

I have many other ideas such as "scroll stopping" strategies and "funnel ascension" campaigns that will have people going nuts over your nuts 😊.

How does your calendar look like this week for a quick zoom call?

Best regards,
Aram
