

Subject line: The Smoke Won't Stop

Hello <name>,

A tiny spark can lead to a big fire in the woods.

But how about using a spark to start a fire, and all the smoke goes towards <the product>?

When someone finds your <account/channel>, you should build trust with them so that they listen to you.

If you want someone to reach you, you should build a bridge for them.

You can build this bridge by using a technique called "The Ultimate Spark" in communication between you and your followers.

This technique attracts them to read what you give them by making them curious...

And make them continue reading the magic you give them to build a strong bond between you and them.

Get them to trust you with their darkest secrets, and finally lead them to <the product>.

So, do you want to build a strong bond with your new and existing followers and lead crowds to <the product>?

Kind regards,

Ammar Hamad
