

WGC Detailed Pavilion Program

WGC Pavilion Coordinator Contact

Tehani Ari, WGC Pavilion Coordinator.

All questions on Pavilion organizing should be directed to tehani.ari@gmail.com.

The Pavilion will open on Nov 30th and close on Dec 12th - there will be no programming on these days.

Date	Segment/ Setup	Event Time	Title	Description	Organizer(s) & Contact
Dec 1 Friday	Conspiring (circular chair set up)
Dec 1 Friday	Grounding (flexible)	12:00 - 3:00pm	Fearless Visions for a Feminist Fossil Fuel Free Future	Creating a collective mural for the WGC Pavilion.	Fearless Collective shilo@fearlesscollective.org
Dec 1 Friday	Visioning & Testimony (panel/ presentation style)	3:30 - 5:30pm	Transforming Narratives & Driving Climate Action: Key Demands of MENA WGC	Showcasing the key demands of MENA feminists in the Women and Gender Constituency.	MENA Feminist Taskforce/ Nada Elbohi nadaelbohi@gmail.com
Dec 1 Friday	Amplification (evening networking event) may be open or INVITE ONLY	6:00 - 7:30pm	Open Reception: Honoring the leadership of MENA WGC Climate Leaders	Honoring the leadership of MENA WGC Climate Leaders	MENA Feminist Taskforce/ Zukiswa White zukiswa@womengenderclimate.org
Dec 2 Saturday	Conspiring (circular chair set up)	10:00 - 11:30am	Brave space: Developing a feminist vision for demilitarization for gender and climate justice	Women in all their diversity in countries affected by militarism, from Palestine to Ukraine, Sudan to Yemen, bear the brunt of the climate crisis, while continuously spearheading feminist climate justice solutions against all odds. This session is a space where the climate and peace movements can come together to address the root causes of human insecurity and to plot the path towards a world of peace with each other and the planet. In a feminist sharing circle, we will kick off the conversation with some speakers providing an overview of the latest data on military spending and military emissions, while others will share their lived realities of militarism and the climate crisis, and the solutions feminists and peace activists are leading across the world. We will share and listen consciously and compassionately in the	Women's International League for Peace and Freedom (WILPF)/ Michelle Benzing michelle.benzing@wilpf.org midst of intersecting crises affecting people and the planet. In solidarity we can create a brave space to forge a shared vision for feminist, sustainable peace and gender-just climate action beyond war and militarism.

Dec 2 Saturday	Grounding (flexible)	12:00 - 1:30pm	Investing on Women Diverse Leadership in Climate Just Initiatives: Ground to Global Voices	The scoping of the study will share the climate change impacts on SRHR services related to indigenous women and girls with disabilities in Nepal and will discuss about the key recommendation // The Asia region is at the forefront of experiencing the impact of climate change. ARROW studies have pointed out that the impact of climate change is not gender neutral, with women and girls disproportionately impacted, with sometimes irreversible consequences on the socio-economic and health systems including on their SRHR. Women and girls are even more vulnerable to sexual and gender-based violence.	National Indigenous Disabled Women Association Nepal (NIDWAN)/ Pratima Gurung nidwan2015@gmail.com Asian Pacific Resource and Research Centre for Women Menka Goundan menka@arrow.org.my
Dec 2 Saturday	Visioning & Testimony (panel/ presentation style)	3:00 - 5:00pm	Teach In: SRHR & Climate Justice Messaging Guide	The SRHR and Climate Justice Coalition is a growing global coalition focused on interlinkages between SRHR and climate justice and inclusive advocacy, campaigns, learning and evidence generation to drive policies, programs and processes at all levels that advance gender equality and climate justice. We envision this teach-in as a joyous gathering where we explore the key messages in our SRHR and Climate Justice messaging guide, one of the primary products from our collaborative work this year. The teach-in will center participatory elements as we discuss ways and spaces to both use and advocate for these messages. This space would be one where WGC allies can engage in learning, exploration, celebration, and strategizing around five messages that center human rights. The guide also provides insight into ways to better integrate health and SRHR into the gender and climate discourse and can catalyze ideas—and potential for collaboration—as it brings together folks	SRHR & Climate Justice Coalition/ Eleanor Blomstrom ebloomstrom@womendeliver.org working across these spaces. The participatory elements of this teach-in will also be generative, building from the original vision of this messaging guide as a living document that continues to evolve in the ways it provides direction and clarity for the communications and approaches of actors in policy and programming at all levels.

Dec 3 Sunday	Conspiring (circular chair set up)	10:00 - 11:30am	Brave space: Intersectional queer experiences in climate impacts, solutions and decision-making	A space to conspire around building a more intersectional and gender diverse climate justice movement.	WGC / Zukiswa White zukiswa@womensgenderclimate.org
Dec 3 Sunday	Grounding (flexible)	12:00 - 2:00pm	Storytelling: Feminist Youth Unite: Visions for climate justice // Imagining Impact: Youth-led Climate Solutions in 2030	Young feminists from the Global South (Morocco, Kenya and more tbc) come together to share their perspectives on achieving climate justice through feminist lenses and approaches. A conversation on how to organize, contribute to the climate justice fight with a feminist perspective and gender based actions and strategies. This is an interactive session that attempts to change the conventional challenging narrative of talking about feminist strategies in countries where it is hard to approach. We will delve on working with the attendants on ways to achieve a feminist just world and collectively imagining how a feminist world looks like.	Greenpeace MENA, FFP MAPA +/ Rubby Haji Naif Adriana Calderon Hernandez adcherna@greenpeace.org Rubby Haji Naif RH825@CAM.AC.UK
Dec 3 Sunday	Visioning & Testimony (panel/ presentation style)	2:30 - 4:30pm	Teach-in: Challenging Green Extractivism and Positing Feminist Alternatives // Dialogue connecting dots between the debt, tax and climate justice from a feminist and human rights perspectives	This teach-in and grounding session will feature leading feminist analysis on tax justice, degrowth, demilitarization, and the systemic transformation required to achieve gender, climate, and economic justice. Drawing from a range of recent and forthcoming publications, including The Principles of Tax Justice and the Climate Crisis in Africa's Resource-Rich Nations; Feminist Interventions: Resisting the Militarization of the Climate Crisis; Towards Economic and Climate Justice: A feminist analysis of critical trends; and a primer series on "Degrowth for Global Justice," the conversation will build on recent engagements at Africa and LAC Regional Climate Weeks co-hosted by the Women and Gender Constituency and the Feminist Action Nexus for Economic and Climate Justice. Under a broad	Center for Economic and Social Rights (CESR) Alina Saba, asaba@cesr.org Feminist Action Nexus for Economic and Climate Justice / WEDO, Tax Justice Network-Africa, Tax Justice Network (global) Katie Tobin, katie@wedo.org

				“divest to invest” framing, the event will spotlight proposals from global Majority feminists to sharpen our collective analysis and understanding.
Dec 3 Sunday	Evening Conspiring (circular chair set up)	6:30- 7:30pm	Conversation Circle: Gender & Environment Data	A space to learn more about the Gender and Environment Data Alliance (GEDA) and to unpack collectively the gender and environment data conference being held prior to COP28/ any data related outcomes at COP.	Gender and Environment Data Alliance (GEDA) Katie Tobin, katie@wedo.org
Dec 4 Monday	Conspiring (circular chair set up)	10:00 - 11:30am	Open Dialogue: Conspiring around feminist global energy justice	As the global mobilization to end the era of fossil fuels accelerates, the Feminist Green New Deal Coalition (FemGND) will create space at COP28 for feminist climate justice advocates to gather their core, actionable principles for just and feminist energy transitions – and to channel those recommendations into US climate policymaking. With the US being the largest historical emitter, we are committed to advocating for transformative US policy that is accountable to and shaped by the perspectives and demands of global feminist movements, and aim to use these consultations to shape US advocacy. This in-person consultation at COP28 will facilitate a knowledge exchange, weaving together our analysis and experience.	Feminist Green New Deal Coalition / Mara Dolan & Katherine Quaid
Dec 4 Monday	Grounding (flexible)	12:00 - 2:30pm	HerPlanetAfrica - A feminist Energy Renaissance // Body Mapping exercise	The session will kickstart with a hand mapping exercise where people will explain what they see when they look at their hands. This will be followed by a panel discussion where women will speak what an feminist energy renaissance means to them and draw from their experiences with the current energy system. The women will speak about the demands on a real energy transition. We will hear from gas struggles, coal, oil struggles.	Africa Movement Building Space, Don't Gas Africa, CANAfrica and Shine Lorraine Chiponda LChiponda@powershiftafrica.org https://dont-gas-africa.org/ https://www.adapt-2-live.org/
Dec 4 Monday	Visioning & Testimony (panel/ presentation style)	3:00 - 4:30pm	Shaping Justice: A Feminist Vision for a Just Energy Transition in Asia	At its core, the Asia Feminist Coalition (AFC) is committed to intersectional gender and climate justice. Comprising grassroots, women's rights organizations, and youth-led groups, we share a mission: advancing gender equality across Asia. In this ONE HOUR session, AFC own	Asia Feminist Coalition (Oxfam Asia and Klima Action Malaysia -KAMY) ILI NADIAH BINTI DZULFAKAR nadiah@klimaactionmalaysi members' comprising Oxfam Asia and Klima Action Malaysia (KAMY) will join forces, featuring speakers from across Asia. We'll discuss our policy brief on Just Energy Transition through a feminist lens, that culminated from partners' documentation, sparking dialogue on dismantling fossil fuel patriarchy in Asia. Championing a JET that cares for people, communities, and the environment, we address gender inequalities, reclaim economic opportunities, and foster climate resilience. With a focus on care work, health, mobility, social protection, and economic empowerment, join the conversation on justice and the urgent shift away from fossil fuels toward a truly caring world.	a.org

Dec 4 Monday	Amplification (evening networking event) may be open or INVITE ONLY	6:00 - 7:30pm	Open Reception: Financing a Gender Just Transition	A reception on the heels of the in-session workshop on a gender-just transition and a Gender Day dedicated to "Financing a Gender Just Transition" - hear from key leaders on why this must be at the heart of COP28 outcomes.	WEDO & WGC Mwanahamisi Singano mwanahamisi@wedo.org
Dec 5 Tuesday	Conspiring (circular chair set up)	10:00 - 11:30am	Brave Space: Young and Fearless: The Powerful Voices of Young Women Environmental Rights Defenders	There is increasing international recognition of the long-standing youth climate activism of young women from Indigenous and excluded communities throughout the Global South. These movements play a bold role in calling for urgent action from governments and corporations to address the root causes of climate change, challenging money and power behind unfettered resource extraction. To support and facilitate young women's gender just climate action GAGGA wants to gather and build on the knowledge and experiences of partners and allies and share this with a wider audience in the WGC Pavillion. With Nasywa from SERUNI (Indonesia), Joy from Green Girls Platform (Malawi), Fatoumata from LSD (Senegal), Carrele from GDA (Cameroon) and a representative from Fondo CASA (Brasil) we would like to hold a space for an intergenerational dialogue on feminist climate action.	Global Alliance for Green and Gender Action Noemi Grütter n.grutter@fondocentroamericano.org
Dec 5 Tuesday	Grounding (flexible)	12:00 - 1:30pm	Introducing Gen Adapt: the case for gender-just climate	'Gen Adapt' is the generation of women and girls disproportionately impacted by	CARE International in partnership with Centre for financing	the climate crisis, who are being forced to adapt to climate devastation. This interactive session will consist of a panel discussion to showcase the resilience and innovation of women on the front lines of the climate crisis, positioning them as the experts and leaders and using their stories to call for more funding for WROs, more women in decision making roles at local and international levels and a gender-just green transition. The session will also share some brand-new findings from a CARE gender and climate policy report due to be launched at COP on Gender and Finance Day on 4th December and which highlights the minimal amounts of UK climate finance reaching WROs and recommendations from women leaders in global south on what world leaders need to do. Join the discussion to share and learn about best practices in locally-led climate action, opportunities and challenges to scaling up and show your support for 'Gen Adapt', the generation of women and girls adapting to climate change.	Green Growth Hayley Capp and Stephanie Eyram Akumah capp@careinternational.org // CARE International Howaida Nagy howaida.nagy@cef-eg.org

Dec 5 Tuesday	Visioning & Testimony (panel/ presentation style)	3:00 - 4:30pm	Young feminist climate leadership - experiences and lessons in adaptation from the Caribbean, Pacific and Africa	Young women have continued to lead advocacy on climate action globally. Across some of the most vulnerable regions, the emphasis of their work has been on adaptation and resilience building. They have formed local movements, pioneered innovative ideas for awareness raising, and engaged policy makers to demand more ambitious adaptation goals. Their efforts have led to successes promoting gender-responsive approaches to climate adaptation and to amplifying youth voices in the discourse. At the global level, frameworks and tools such as the Global Stocktake and the Global Goal on Adaptation seek to assess progress towards the goals of the Paris Agreement – young feminist voices are essential in these processes to ensure that these efforts are recognized, and that equity in adaptation outcomes is assessed. This session aims to foster dialogue on	GirlsCARE, Global Fund for Women, & IISD Ayesha Constable: girlscareja@gmail.com constableayesha@gmail.com Angie Dazé: adaze@iisd.ca

				the leadership of young women in three regions of the global south on the experiences, challenges and opportunities for gender-responsive, locally-led adaptation. It will explore strategies used to engage rural and marginalized women and girls in adaptation and in promoting policy change through advocacy, nationally and globally.
Dec 5 Tuesday	Grounding (flexible)	5:00- 7:00pm	Film Screening: FARAH	Film by Darin J Sallam Jordan official entry in the International Feature Film category at the 95th Academy Awards (Oscars) 2023.	Climate Alliance for Palestine Ahmed el Droubi
Dec 6 Wednesday	Conspiring (circular chair set up)	10:00 - 11:30am	Weaving a Climate Resilient Future: a Cross-Generational Dialogue Between Women Leaders	This dialogue is a follow-up to the SHE Changes Climate and Project Dandelion "'Unite for Climate Solutions Summit.'" It will delve into the outcomes of this event during an interactive dialogue at COP28, creating a collective space where everyone, irrespective of gender or background, can contribute to a vision of a world with gender-inclusive climate action at its core.	She Changes Climate Frances Storey frances@shechangesclimate.org
Dec 6 Wednesday	Visioning & Testimony (panel/ presentation style)	12:00 - 1:00pm	Debt Threats in the Global South: Feminists, Activists Tackle Solutions to Debt and Climate Crisis at COP28	Press conference	APWLD Edz
Dec 6 Wednesday	Grounding (flexible)	1:00 - 2:30pm	Accelerating on-the-ground efforts to combat biodiversity loss to improve food systems, human resilience and planetary health	Murna Foundation has been training women on how to preserve vegetables, food and other items like spices for use during the period of harsh whether that makes it difficult to get these items, this also helps to empower the women and build their capacity towards food security most especially in areas of Climate Change. Building partnership with women across the globe so as to provide markets and other source of livelihood making life bearable for those in crises situation.// We will be presenting a short storytelling on scaling innovations and driving urgent climate actions for building human resilience, planetary health and a just world.	Murna Foundation // Village Farmers Initiative (VFI) Asikaralu Okafor asikaraluokafor@gmail.com UMAR AHMED umarmalay@yahoo.com

Dec 6 Wednesday	Visioning & Testimony (panel/ presentation style)	3:00 - 4:30pm	Building alliances to deliver climate justice for the vulnerable	As climate disasters continue to affect the vulnerable in different parts of the world, it is important to forge alliances to demand climate justice. During this event, Women Environmental Programme will showcase some of her innovative works across Africa, aiming to build resilience of vulnerable local communities and groups to the impacts of climate change, focusing on sustainable agriculture, renewable energy, forest conservation, water, sanitation and hygiene. WEP will also show how she is building alliances across Africa to build a feminist climate justice movement that will amplify the voices of the grassroots at national, regional and global levels.	Women Environmental Programme Christian Aid and Women Engage for a Common Future and United Nations University Anne-Marie Abaagu info@wepnigeria.net
Dec 6 Wednesday	Visioning & Testimony (panel/ presentation style)	5:00 - 6:30pm	Africa Women and Gender Constituency	It's been fifteen years since the Women and Gender Constituency was founded as an official observer of the UNFCCC. During this period women have advanced various demands for gender just climate policy and action. In 2022, at Sharm El Sheikh, the Africa Women and Gender Constituency, then constituted as the Africa Feminist Taskforce for COP 27 developed and advanced demands for the climate negotiations at COP27. In this regard, at COP 28 this year, the African Women and Gender Constituency would like to gather and systematically take stock of the progress that has been taken to adopt African feminists demands from COP 27 last year including some of the climate related processes such as the African Climate Week. During this gathering, we will also reflect on the visible and invisible obstacles that have delayed the adoption of our transformative demands. Using documentaries, poems, and storytelling, we will use this session to showcase how African women are leading, organizing, and influencing the climate discourse. We will also use a few minutes to do an action that mimics the responses that emitters continuously advance in opposition to our demands. By acting this out, we will strengthen our narratives to better challenge the	Africa Women and Gender Constituency Faith Lumonya lumonya@akinamamawaafrika.org pushback currently advanced by pro fossil fuel activists.

Dec 8 Friday	Conspiring (circular chair set up)	10:00 - 11:30am	Conversation Circle: Youth, Education, Gender Issues and Skills on sustainable mobility	A conversation around reaching the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) via educational tools - focusing on a new educational method to redesign and rehabilitate the existing built environment with a gender lens.	Womenvai Venezia Elisabetta venezia.elisabetta@gmail.com yvette.amos@womenvai.org
Dec 8 Friday	Grounding (flexible)	11:30 - 12:30pm	Spotlight: Gender Just Climate Solutions Award Winners	Hear and learn from the 2023 Gender Just Climate Solutions Award winners!	WECF/ WGC Valeria Peleaz valeria.pelaez@wecf.org
Dec 8 Friday	Grounding (flexible)	1:00 - 2:30pm	Film Screening: Women, Climate Change, and Cohesion	A panel discussion and film screening of the Migration Blanket - Climate Solidarity with Director Salma Zulfqar and refugees that helped create the film. Our partners are UN Women (Action Coalition Group), Ukrainian Green Friends, and COMAGEND - Cameroon.	ARTconnects Salma Zulfqar salma@artconnects.co.uk
Dec 8 Friday	Visioning & Testimony (panel/ presentation style)	3:00 - 4:30pm	Feminist Analysis and Implications of the Resolution on Race, Racism and Climate Reparations in the UNFCCC	This session will be a facilitated discussion with Green Leadership Trust, Pan African Climate Justice Alliance, SHINE, The Chisholm Legacy Project, and others with deep audience engagement around the topic of the intersection of feminism and racial justice in the context of the UNFCCC and climate change discourse and action.	The Chisholm Legacy Project--Global Afro Descendant Climate Justice Collaborative Jacqueline Patterson jacqui@thechisholmlegacyproject.org
Dec 8 Friday	Visioning & Testimony (panel/ presentation style)	5:00 - 6:30pm	Calls for Climate Action from Indigenous Women Leaders from Brazil	During this event, Indigenous women leaders from Brazil will discuss the successful strategies they have employed to strengthen grassroots leadership, advancing women's rights in government, and the connections between Indigenous rights and climate solutions. Speakers will also discuss the impacts of fossil fuels, deforestation, and the climate crisis in their communities and how practicing traditional knowledge systems and upholding Indigenous rights, can strengthen policies and practices of care and climate justice. This event is being co-organized with Amazon Watch, and at the request of Sonia Guajajara, Minister of Indigenous Affairs in Brazil, whose intention is to bring forward solutions of Indigenous women leaders at COP28 and beyond.	Women's Earth and Climate Action Network and Amazon Watch Katherine Quaid katherine@wecaninternational.org

Dec 9 Saturday	Conspiring (circular chair set up)	10:00 - 11:30am	Conversation Circle: Stories Slashing Silos: Resilience Storytelling Circle from Women at the Frontlines	Resilience cannot be achieved if the social fabric is weakened as a result of humanitarian crises, for example, due to protracted or repeated displacement following conflicts or climate disasters, It is therefore essential to apply the triple nexus approach in all initiatives to build collective resilience in a sustainable manner. In this context, the stories of resilient women and their gender-responsive solutions to climate challenges are a source of inspiration and valuable lessons. Speakers from different regions including women with disabilities to open the conversation and encourage other women + gender leaders to share their experiences breaking silos using effective disaster risk, climate, adaptation, humanitarian action, and development practices.	Sendai Stakeholder Engagement Mechanism, Re-Energize Disaster Risk Reduction (DR3), ActionAidInternational, NRC, PDD, IFRC, WEDO, the International Disability Alliance Jamie Cummings jamiecummings2323@gmail.com
Dec 9 Saturday	Grounding (flexible)	12:00 - 2:00pm	Storytelling - Micro Level women led solutions for climate crisis // Understanding our role in gender and climate change through a role play	Learning and sharing knowledge about different level actions initiated specifically by women because women and children at the ground level are most impacted. Women in particular are first responders to any crisis and their contributions need to be acknowledged and recognized. // The session includes Role play developed by CDKN to discuss Gender in Climate Change. This will start with 15 minutes of talk which will include field narratives on Gender in Climate Change from India and other Asian countries.	All India Women's Conference Kalyani Raj raj.kalyani@gmail.com Keystone Foundation Bhavya George bhavva@keystone-foundation.org
Dec 9 Saturday	Visioning & Testimony (panel/ presentation style)	3:00 - 4:30pm	Gender-just and community rights perspectives on forest & biodiversity conservation: pathways for climate justice	We would like to host a dialogue that will discuss and present examples of gender-just community conservation and restoration of forests and other ecosystem initiatives, including the strengthening of land tenure rights, as one of the most effective ways to mitigate climate change. Representatives of feminist groups and other gender experts will also discuss different types of perverse incentives that have triggered forest loss and thus climate change, as	Global Forest Coalition (GFC), Women Engage for a Common Future (WECF), CAMGEW, CFLEDD Global Forest Coalition Coraina de la Plaza coraina.delaplaza@globalforestcoalition.org well as the many false solutions being put forth through the increasing corporate capture of forest and climate policy-making.

Dec 9 Saturday	Visioning & Testimony (panel/ presentation style)	5:00 - 6:00pm	Expressions for Earth: Youth Art Showcase on Climate change		Arab Youth Green Voices Network Load Alatrash Saed Hanani
Dec 10 Sunday	Conspiring (circular chair set up)	10:30 - 11:00am	Spiritual Healing led by Indigenous Women		Gina Cortes gina.cortes@wecf.org Tarcila Rivera presidencia@iiwf.org
Dec 10 Sunday	Grounding (flexible)	1:00pm	Film Screening: Tarcila: Indigenous Solutions to Climate Change in Peru		Sarah Kuck
Dec 10 Sunday	Visioning & Testimony (panel/ presentation style)	3:00 - 4:30pm	Indigenous Women's Day Event		IPOs
Dec 10 Sunday	Visioning & Testimony (panel/ presentation style)	5:00-6:00 pm	Video Launch The Rise Up Series, e. 4 The Menace of the Golden West	Campaign of Campaigns	Emilia Reyes
Dec 11 Monday	Grounding (flexible)	12:00 - 1:30pm	Sharing intersectional climate justice stories from territorial struggles in the global South	The session will gather activists from post-colonial contexts, from Abya Yala to the African continent, while offering a platform for exchange of stories related to their territorial struggles for justice and liberation. 3 activists working on food and agriculture, youth and racial justice will be invited to initiate the session by sharing stories on their territories, such as threats and historical specificities, and struggles, such as coalitions and strategies. The exchange session is intended to later include the participation of the public attending the event. The idea is to create a "safer space" where people, especially those living in "sacrifice zones", get to share their context-specific activisms fighting the global racial empire (Táiwò, 2022), climate apartheid and coloniality (Sultana, 2022). Inspired by author Chimamanda Adichie's call against the danger of a single story, multiple stories will highlight how injustices and	Freie Universität Berlin & Heidelberg University Isadora Cardoso i.cardoso@fu-berlin.de Marco Antonio Teixeira marco.teixeira@uni-heidelberg.de

				the predatory extractivism of peoples, non-humans and territories are faced with plural resistances by various organized movements dismantling intersecting oppressions in the global South.
Dec 11 Monday	Visioning & Testimony (panel/ presentation style)	3:00 - 4:30pm	Solar cooking: a gender just clean cooking climate solution	SCI envisions an event that begins by highlighting the detrimental effects of cooking with polluting fuels and technologies, which disproportionately impact women and girls around the world. SCI plans to highlight the cultural and economic considerations that contribute to how communities cook their meals, with first-hand accounts from an inspiring and diverse group of women. Finally, SCI will highlight solar cooking technology as a gender-just climate solution that is already benefiting thousands of people by utilizing renewable energy for cooking purposes.	Keith Wingard partnerships@solarcookers.org