

SUBJECT: Meet the experts behind FORM Face + Body Dr Ron Somogyi and Dr. Waqqas Jalil

I hope you are doing well!

We are excited to introduce you to our expert Plastic Surgeons, Dr. Ron Somogyi and Dr. Waqqas Jalil of FORM Face + Body. Dr. Somogyi and Dr. Jalil are pioneering the virtual landscape to stay connected and offer meaningful education and consultation on all surgeries and skincare through COVID closures.

In 2020, the surgeons combined their skills and passion for extraordinary patient care to open FORM Face + Body. FORM offers Cosmetic Surgeries, Reconstructive Surgeries, and Advanced Aesthetics, including Rhinoplasty, Breast Augmentation, Abdominoplasty, Body Contouring, and non-surgical treatments such as Dermal Fillers, skin rejuvenation and Microneedling. Their Toronto-based practice includes procedures that can be both invasive and non-invasive. The clinic offers complete non-surgical aesthetics - such as injectables, complexion treatments and skincare - when in regular operation.

About Dr. Ron Somogyi: Dr. Somogyi is personable, reliable, and cares deeply about his patients. His passion for plastic surgery and for combining his reconstructive and cosmetic skills to deliver optimal results is his greatest strength.

He is a Toronto-based plastic surgeon, having trained at the University of Toronto in Plastic and Reconstructive Surgery. He went on to complete two fellowships in Melbourne, Australia. Each of these fellowships taught him new and innovative techniques and honed the unique cosmetic surgery skills he has brought back to his practice here in Toronto. Dr. Ron Somogyi has been on full-time staff at North York General Hospital and Women's College Hospital since 2014. He maintains an active research interest in both cosmetic and reconstructive surgery and has recently published journal articles and book chapters on breast reconstruction, surgical safety and breast augmentation.

About Dr. Waqqas Jalil:

Dr. Jalil was inspired by witnessing all the amazing and transformational procedures that had such a profound impact on patients. It was these moments in his early education that determined his career choice. He believed that contrary to what people may think plastic surgery is something people from all walks of life can benefit from and drastically improve their quality of life.

Dr. Waqqas Jalil is a highly trained and experienced plastic surgeon in both reconstructive and aesthetic plastic surgery. He had the great privilege of training in both Canada and the United States which allowed him access to world-class education, techniques, and innovations. He studied in both Saskatchewan and Manitoba, and his passion eventually took him to New York and the prestigious Lenox Hill Manhattan Eye, Ear & Throat Fellowship Program for Breast Reconstruction and Aesthetic Surgery. Upon completion of his fellowship, Dr. Jalil was recruited back to Toronto, where he was brought on at North York General Hospital, specializing in the reconstruction of oncological defects with expertise in breast reconstruction and skin cancer treatments. Since starting his practice, he has maintained an active interest in research, being a lecturer at the University of Toronto and, more importantly, teaming up with Dr. Somogyi to create this one-of-a-kind aesthetic and reconstructive clinic!

I'd love to offer them to you as expert resources for anything related to cosmetic surgery, aesthetics and skincare. We would love to connect you with either Dr. Ron Somogyi or Dr. Waqqas Jalil to share any information with you regarding cosmetic surgery or any stories that may require their expertise.

www.formfacebody.ca

@formfaceandbody

Thank you,

