

Subject line: Business Analyst In need of Marketing?

Hey Daniel,

I found you on Instagram and decided to check out your page and website. Woah!

I'm mad impressed with the amount of information and value you offer to each person that decides to open your website. Not only do you go in depth about each business known to man and show their model structure, but you also show their competitors, concepts, profitability, etc.

Yet I noticed you stopped posting on your insta and Facebook maybe you're too busy with your business modeling and courses, so I decided to reach out in hopes of a new friendship.

I'm a marketing copywriter with some skills you may benefit from. I create website designs/rewrites, funnels, opt-in pages, newsletters, ads, social media, and more.

I'd like to create a gift of interest an Instagram/Facebook ad to get the marketing rolling, as a small gesture that can have a significant impact. To show you what I'm capable of.

Take a moment of your time and let me know if you're interested. I'm excited to hear back from you Daniel!

Peace out 🙌,
