Subject line: having only a degree in the mondrian days ISN'T enough to become wealthy.

Hey,

You made a wise decision by signing up.

So, here's the deal: you need to quit your job.

Right? You could have enjoyed doing it once. You felt inspired, you produced beautiful work, and what you were doing was significant.

But as the years passed, you stopped being as enthusiastic.

The whole idea in this email is to get you up to speed making a lot more money than before, as fast as humanly possible.

The only reason I decided to tell you is that knowing this can save you so much time, money, and grief.

We'll discuss business, marketing, and finances. However, I also want to teach you how to align your thoughts.

Tomorrow you'll understand what I mean. It's going to be fun:)

See you then

Jason

Subject line: to become wealthy you Required to have a degree right? WRONG!

To paint the big picture on how you would become a self-made millionaire I got to tell you how I did it.

I got to college and everyone there was lazy.

I didn't want to be in this environment at all!

I was 20 at that point.

I liked working out so I thought that I would settle down by opening a gym.

I went to the gym. I hear weights bang and people are lifting weights

The LA host was upstairs. He was on his laptop just punching away the keyboard.

What are you doing? I asked.

And he responded, " I'm writing my eBook, I'm gonna sell it online".

He opened up this door for me, this opportunity I didn't know was possible, it was exciting.

I was determined to do this "internet marketing thing".

I wrote my first book. 115 pages. The plan was: wake up tomorrow and be rich.

No one came. I came back the next day, no sales, nothing at all.

"This internet market is a scam!"

I forgot about it until I got an email from my buddy Ryan.

Ryan told me about this internet marketing seminar. Washington DC. Three grand a ticket.

They're giving away scholarships now, to young entrepreneurs you have to be under 25. you should apply.

So I go and applied

I get a call from the event organiser named Nika and she goes: “Hey good news and bad news.

The Bad news: you were not one of the ten scholarship winners we selected.

The good news is, number 10 was from Pakistan. Her government won't let her come to the States. Do you want the spot? F yeah, I want a spot.

I remember hanging up the phone and I started dancing in my dorm room.

I remember calling my mom. “Mom, I made it!!”.

In between talks at the seminar, I met a guy named Craig.

Craig sat me down and just took a liking to me for some reason.

Craig was already making millions of dollars on the internet. He took a piece of paper and said: do this, do this, do this. And you'll be good.

Went back home with this plan. I IMMEDIATELY implement exactly what he said.

I made almost 20 grand that first week.

From that point on that business was making me almost 20 thousand dollars every single month.

In the end, I sold over 25 million dollars and stuff from my laptop before spending a penny on ads.

Tomorrow I'll tell you about all the secrets.

See you tomorrow
Jason.

Gary Halbert, one of the most well-known copywriters of all time, has a habit of telling everyone, "If you start learning copy, you should write sales letters by hand."

He wants you to handwrite thousands of these 10,000 or 20,000 word documents by hand.

Because when you write, you are ingesting that person's material into your subconscious.

I've done a lot of stuff, but the thing I liked to get out of it was learning about the controls that are available. Sales through webinars, sales literature, and other means are crushing it. and after that you take it apart, turn it upside down, and look behind. You begin to question, "Why did he say that?," etc.

Do you remember the seminar's millionaire? the one from which I began to earn over $20k per month and sell over $25 million without investing any money in advertising?

Well the secret that he told me is: product launch. get affiliates through products lunch.

You've got the basics of how I made it

Now it time for the advanced stuff.

You will see what i mean tomorrow

See you tomorrow.

Subject line: Will you make your dream state in time?

You see, you've got the basics. Nothing stops you from making money now right? WRONG!

You really think that you got the knowledge that puts you far from your competition?

Do you really want to make money, live a free life without a boss and having to work double digits of hours for not satisfying payment?

Doing it on repeat and repeat like a robot.

Or you imagine your life something like: serious person, 10x money, free physically and mentally from exhausting work FOREVER!

Because if you are serious. I personally will be teaching you on how to make it 10x easier than you walking out of this with only basic material.

But it's for a limited time. You as future self made-millionaire need to act on your opportunities while they last.

Will you make it in time?

Subject line: I understand you.

Look, all the stuff that we went on is something new and fast. You might be stuck thinking should I go through the advanced stuff or just leave and maybe you are scared.

But what will actually happen if you do go through the advanced material?

Starting 0 still be living from paycheck to paycheck, look at the material and you would feel different a little, something in your brain will go like: "maybe this will do work"

Week 1 feeling a little cocky, more comfortable in the material, and starting dreaming big.

Week 3 you're a professional, understand everything and share with your friends too.

First month, BOOM you landed your very first client. You're flying. From my own experience it's an amazing feeling.

3 months in, you don't need to worry about 9-5 work anymore! Say bye to your boss and stress.

5 months is the sweet spot. Living the life you always dreamed of. Fancy cars, women, houses, networks, freedom.

Now let's imagine what it would feel like not going thru the advanced stuff:

- Boss is angry 24-7.
- exhausting and never ending work.
- struggling to pay the bills.

You have this one in a lifetime opportunity.

You can either pretend this didn't happen and go on struggling in life, think too long and miss this opportunity which will lead you to again struggling in life, or completely changing your life right here right now.

Just remember your actions will have consequences.
