

Clan Merger Agreement for the Exile Alliance

Note: As the leader of your clan, you must read and sign this document before the beginning of your trial period. This agreement ensures that everyone shares the same expectations regarding how the merger partnership will work. If you have any questions, ask Super2005hero and AlienSpirit (Exile Alliance Owners)

Ownership

You remain the owner of your clan, regardless of your membership in the Exile Alliance. You are expected to play the primary role in leading your clan. You will now have assistance from our support team, alliance leadership, and Exile Owners.

Discord Leadership Roles

You and all persons with a leadership position in your clan will be given the corresponding leadership role in discord. Clan Leaders are given the “Clan Leader” role and Co-Leaders receive the “Clan Co-Leader” role. You will also have clan-specific leadership roles for use within your clan category. Each of these roles comes with certain permissions within the server. Your “Clan Leader” role will give you access to all support team channels, and a private category with other clan leaders, alliance leadership, and Exile Owners where collaborative discussions will take place.

Server / Clan Integration

Your clan description must indicate your membership in the Exile Alliance and the link for our discord server. All current members of your clan must join our discord server and have their CoC accounts linked to their discord. This ensures proper clan management and accountability. Your clan will be given its own category that will contain the following channels:

- #(clan-name)-announcements → clan specific announcements
- #(clan-name)-rules → detailed list of rules for your clan
- #(clan-name)-leadership → chat for clan leaders and co-leaders

- #(clan-name)-chat → chat for all clan members
- #(clan-name)-war plans → chat for attack planning / war strategy
- #(clan-name)-reminders → bot-controlled reminders for war, raids, and clan games

Server Support Roles

We expect members of your clan to be involved in our server support team. Roles include staff, recruiter, moderator, event organizer, and media team (responsibilities described in #role-info in discord). Your clan is REQUIRED to have a staff and recruiter on our support team. It should be the recruiter's job to post your clan's advertisements daily in our recruitment channels. And the staff member ensures that your clan is being fairly represented in clan application tickets. We also encourage your members to apply for the other support positions, but that is not required.

Recruitment

All advertising for your clan must contain the branding of the Exile Alliance. The creation of your clan's new advertisement can be a collaborative effort between your clan's leadership and our recruitment team.

Anyone who wishes to join your clan must join the server and apply. It is fine to accept in-game requests as long as you direct them to join the server and apply. It is the job of server staff to process clan applications. You will be added to tickets that apply to your clan. You get the final say to approve/reject any applicants for your clan. You will be shown the application process during your integration into the server.

Rules

The rules you enforce in your clan remain entirely up to you. We like the rulesets for our competitive clans to be similar since these clans have higher expectations and are therefore more strict. But it is totally fine if you want to enforce slightly different war rules, raid requirements, or clan games requirements. The most important thing is that the strictness of your rules reflect your clan type (competitive or casual), and that you enforce said rules judiciously within your clan. Make sure all rules and expectations are covered in your rules channel.

Game Collaboration

As part of your clan's membership in the Exile Alliance, you agree to collaborate within certain aspects of the game, including sharing members for CWL, participation in events, organizing friendly wars, etc. All collaborative efforts shall be discussed and coordinated between Clan Leaders and Exile Owners. Since we are an alliance of only a few clans, we expect to form a tight-knit relationship in which all clans grow together.
