CRACK THE GEOLOGY PUZZLE!

Can you solve this crossword puzzle for Geology enthusiasts?

Down

1. The type of rock with bands of crystals and folds in them.
2. The part of the Earth made of rock (or the outside of a loaf of bread).
3. This mineral is often called "fool's gold" because it looks like gold.
4. The hardest natural mineral on Earth.
6. The type of rock made from fragments of other rocks and remains of organisms.
7. A type of igneous rock which is sometimes used for pedicures.
10. Remains of organisms often which are found in sedimentary rocks.

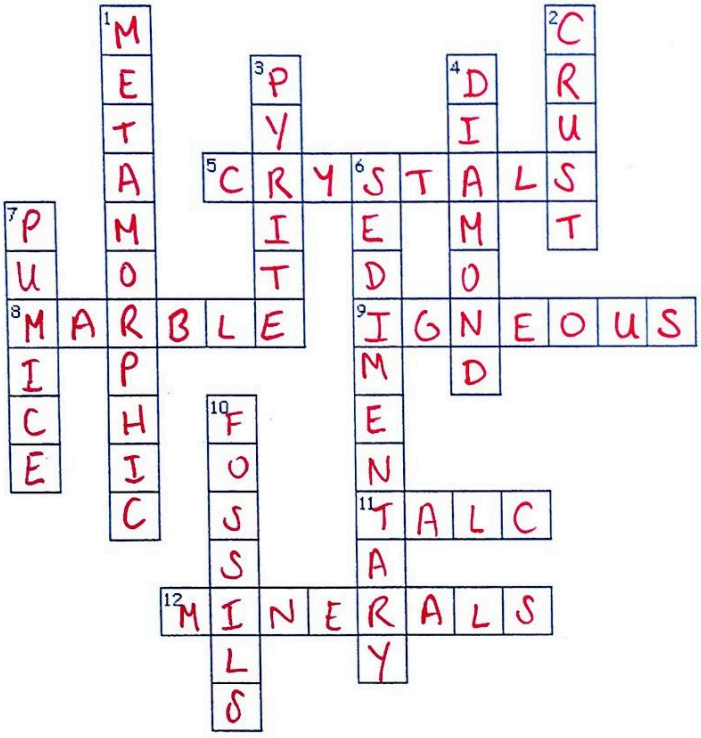

Across

5. Minerals in rocks form these types of 3D structures.
8. This type of metamorphic rock is made from limestone.
9. The type of rock formed when volcano lava cools and solidifies.
11. A very soft mineral used to make talcum powder.
12. The ingredients that make up rocks.

Name: Answer key

Be A Geologist For A Day!

Down

1. The type of rock with bands of crystals and folds in them.
2. The part of the Earth made of rock (or the outside of a loaf of bread).
3. This mineral is often called "fools gold" because it looks like gold.
4. The hardest natural mineral on Earth.
6. The type of rock made from fragments of other rocks and remains of organisms.
7. A type of igneous rock which is sometimes used for pedicures.
10. Remains of organisms often which are found in sedimentary rocks.

Across

5. Minerals in rocks form these types of 3D structures.
8. This type of metamorphic rock is made from limestone.
9. The type of rock formed when volcano lava cools and solidifies.
11. A very soft mineral used to make talcum powder.
12. The ingredients that make up rocks.

