

Residency Acknowledgement Bill

A bill that allows voters to voluntarily identify their location of residency and have it confirmed

1. A resident of a state is someone who voted in its last election
2. Governors may reference confirmed residents of their state in their procedures
3. No citizen may be discriminated against by the federal government for their residency status
4. A citizen may ask the Department of Elections to confirm their residency status with their governor, the Supreme Court, and/or Department of Investigations.
 - a. The Department of Elections must comply with this request, and must not reveal any other information about the citizen's ballot.