

Dani:

Hi everyone, my name is Dani Saiz and this year in 2021 I'm bringing you Pint Saized Art History, an art history podcast where we get together, grab some drinks, get with some friends, and rant about some art history stuff in hopefully a way that makes art history a little more accessible, a little bit more fun, and a little bit more ridiculous for those who may be interested in it. I look forward to grabbing some friends and ranting about some probably pretty wild art history stories as well as some you may have heard before. I hope you get a chance to join us.