

Self-Booking Disclaimer from Jeri's World Travel

Please be advised that when engaging in self-booking, you, the traveler, are independently managing your travel arrangements. Jeri's World Travel is not responsible for any decisions you make during this process, which includes but is not limited to, the selection of airlines, hotels, or other travel services. You assume full responsibility to ensure that your self-booked itinerary aligns with your personal requirements and desires.

Jeri's World Travel will not be liable for any omissions, errors, or outcomes that result from the use of self-booking platforms or decisions made based on the information derived from such services. It is strongly recommended that you thoroughly review all booking conditions, cancellation policies, and terms provided by service providers before finalizing your travel plans.

While self-booking can offer convenience and direct control over your travel choices, it does not include the customized guidance, specialized expertise, and dedicated support that are intrinsic to the services provided by a professional travel agency like Jeri's World Travel. For those clients seeking a comprehensive, personally tailored travel experience with the assurance and assistance from our knowledgeable professionals, we encourage you to explore the broad spectrum of services we provide to meet your unique travel needs.

By choosing to self-book, you are acknowledging and accepting the risks associated with making your own travel arrangements. You agree that Jeri's World Travel cannot be held liable for any discontent or complications that may arise from self-managed travel bookings.

We at Jeri's World Travel are always here to lend our expertise should you wish to transition from self-booking to the care and personal touch of our dedicated travel services.
