

SL: Would you like free <products> <influencer name>?

Body:

Hi <influencer name>,

We, at <business>, would like to send you some of our <products>.

We think that you could help us reach more plus sized women and re-affirm their feminine beauty whilst providing a long lasting luxurious experience.

If you're open to <influencer posting system section>, then we can provide you with a long term plan that will help you earn a large stream of income with support from our marketing team.

However, we are only taking in 30 active influencers that we think align with our brand by mid-May.

Is this something you would be opposed to doing <influencer name>?

Kind regards,

<business>
