

Health Coaches... stop doing this!

Dear(name)

What i'm about to share with you is one of the best opportunities that you're missing out

And the worst part is 97% of online trainers don't know that

After I've analyzed the market of health and wellness and after I found the top players in your market

I've figured out some ways that can help you increase the number of new customers

And that's by doing a quick quiz to know more about your customers and stay in touch with them by giving them a free gift so you can know their email

So if you're interested in scaling up your business reach out

Best regards
