

THREE IMAGES AND A CAPTION

Purpose

Now that you've had a chance to explore how different communities in the Americas were organized between 1200 and 1450, it's time to show what you know. Select or create three images and a caption to represent American communities in this period.

Process

1. In the table below, add three images that best represent the way American communities were organized between 1200 and 1450. You can find these images by doing an internet search, or if you prefer to draw, create them yourself.
2. Add a caption that ties the images together and summarizes your knowledge of American communities in this period.
