

-1. Commenting is enabled, feel free to give feedback

0. No new signatory may be added without the universal agreement of all current signatories.

1. There is to be an el Presidente elected by the people, of the people, for the people, at the end of every [4th turn]. You may not hold office more than twice in a row.

His powers shall be:

- a. To call upon all Signatories for 2 Units dedicated to the campaign and 1 Unit from all Territories
- b. To prosecute defensive wars, but may not declare wars. To approve or veto legislation. A veto may be overridden by a 3/5ths vote by the Senate
- c. el Presidente is compelled to defend the territorial integrity of the Union's signatories and territories by use of diplomacy or/And force

2. There is to be a Senate, each member state sending 2 representatives to it--this will be the legislative body of the Union

- A. Election of the representatives shall be up to the signatory states
- B. Legislation is voted on by majority vote
- C. Vetoes may be overridden by a 3/5ths support vote
- D. The Declaration of War is the sole property of the Senate.

3. There is to be a universal trade agreement between all signatories and territories of the Union, which inclusive of all members but not exclusive of signatories and territories trading outside the Union. No internal tariffs, duties, or fees shall be levied by signatories on trade between signatories

4. In the course of Union events should a peoples or nation be rightly conquered by us, or should a peoples or nation request our protection and friendship in perpetuity beyond a traditional alliance or pact, they shall be made Territories. People of the Territories may be elected El Presidente. Folks from the Territories elect no Senators and have lesser military obligations.

- a. All territories may apply for Signatoryship but it must be passed unanimously by the Senate
- b. Territories may be stripped of their privileges for no longer than one presidential cycle to punish disobedience or disloyalty to the Union

5. Freedom of Religion. No faith is to be outlawed in the Signatories. No law shall be made to promote a religion over another. Similarly, no law shall be made to restrict religious acts except for where a conflict arises with reasonable civil law.

6. Amendments to this document shall require a 4/5ths majority of Senators for ratification.

Signatories:

~Rhinstone Cowboys of Tennessee, the Council of 7's Delegation
~the Clankers Alliance Republic
~the Knights of True Camelot
~USA2

Territories: