

Care Package Fiasco

Intro:

As we all are living in quarantine we are in a race to survive , and one such way of surviving is by taking advantage of the government supplied care packages that will surely provide us with the needed ingredients to supply our families with the needed meals. However, as we know all families have different needs and preferences so these care packages might supply you with the best pasta you have seen , but will that matter when your whole family is craving some burgers , especially when you know Tony down the hall has some good meat in his fridge.

Rules & Steps:

At the beginning of the game each person will take 4 cards from the meal pile , this pile will contain a number of different meals each needing a specific amount of ingredients. A person could find himself having to make 4 of the same meal , 4 different meals , etc..

At the beginning of every round of play each player will receive 3 random cards from the package pile supplying them with ingredients this round , this package pile will contain two types of cards : INGREDIENT and ADVANTAGE.

An Ingredient card is , as the name suggests , is the ingredient you need to supply a certain meal.

An advantage card will allow the holder a certain upperhand should he choose to use the card on his round.

- A player's turn carries on as follows:
 - Using an advantage card as a free action if you have an advantage card in your hand

- Carrying out one of the following actions:
- Use an advantage card if you have one in your hand
- Go Fish i.e asking another person if they have a certain ingredient in their hand , if they do they must hand it to you.
- Create a meal if you have the needed ingredients,the ingredients are then discarded in the pile.

If a player has more than 10 cards in their hand they must discard down to 10.If the package pile is finished the discard pile takes its place.

The game ends when one person has created all his needed meals.
