It seems like marketing isn't a high-priority for you and Tim right now.

If you have any more pictures you'd like me to add to your website, send them over and I can do that for you today.

If not, tomorrow I'll log out of your account and delete the password from my phone.

I would appreciate it if you and Tim wrote me a testimonial talking about how it was working with me.

Thank you for the opportunity, and I hope all continues to go well with you guys.

Since you guys are already pretty busy, I'm guessing marketing isn't a high priority for you and Time right now.

If you have any more pictures you'd like me to add to your website, send them over and I can do that for you.

If not, on Friday I'll be logging out of your GoDaddy account and deleting the password from my phone.

I would appreciate it if you and Tim wrote me a testimonial talking about how it was working with me.

Thank you for the opportunity, and I hope all continues to go well with you guys.
