

===Ups and Downs===

As Lorcan's time on the Crabs continued, ey found emself becoming more and more central to the team, becoming both a star pitcher, and the team's undertaker in season 19. It was troubling then when in the Season 19 Election eir sibling Trinity left for Mexico City to join the Wild Wings. After only having been reunited for a handful of seasons, Lorcan found emself uncharacteristically frustrated at the change, and sought out Trinity's closest friend on the team and fellow occult enthusiast [[Enid Marlow]]. While Marlow was slow to realize that Trinity's departure was the source of her frustration, once Lorcan pointed it out the two took some comfort in each others company, and became fast friends.

In Season 20 Lorcan performed eir first Undertaking - following teammate [[Avila Guzman]] into Elsewhere. While ey were only gone for a short time, Marlow was quite frustrated with the event and had several tense conversations with Guzman over the incident. In Season 21 the tables were turned as Lorcan performed eir second undertaking, diving into Elsewhere after Marlow herself. When Lorcan failed to return in a timely manner it was Guzman that Marlow turned to, and the two of them spent several nights searching the nearby bay for any signs of Lorcan. Eventually ey did return after nearly 80 days away, and Marlow was able to admit that she had missed em. Lorcan celebrated eir return by pitching a shutout in eir only postseason game, and winning eir first even Internet Series Championship.

Unfortunately even with the taste of victory still fresh on eir tongue, not all was well for Lorcan. While during eir last postseason Lorcan had rushed to Mexico City for Trinity's graduation, as soon as the post season ended for Season 21 Lorcan found emself returning for less pleasant reasons. In eir absence eir sibling Trinity had been attacked by consumers twice, and despite aer brave exterior, ae were not taking it well. Once the season was over Lorcan was quick to track aer down and the two spent their brief offseason catching up alongside Marlow. When the three had to return to active play they still kept in touch online, and when Trinity discovered the Crab's latest trades ae insisted on getting autographs from both [[Jessica Telephone]] and [[Silvaire Roadhouse]]. When Lorcan asked both obliged with apathy and bewilderment respectively.
