Instructions for Chapter Submission:

To begin, please select a working title for your chapter and draft a preliminary abstract along with 7 relevant keywords. Prepare these details in a Microsoft Word document and send them to the editor for review.

Format:

Title of Your Chapter:
(Insert your proposed chapter title here)

Abstract:
(Insert your draft abstract here – see example and guidance below)

Keywords:
(Insert 7 specific and relevant keywords here, separated by commas)

Preference will be given if you have collaborative authors from foreign country

Example Abstract for a Taylor & Francis Chapter:

Title:
Digital Transformation in Education: Leveraging AI to Enhance Learning Outcomes

Abstract:
This chapter explores the integration of artificial intelligence (AI) into educational practices, focusing on its transformative potential in enhancing student learning and institutional effectiveness. Drawing on recent case studies, policy frameworks, and empirical findings, it examines how AI-powered tools support personalized learning, real-time feedback, and data-driven decision-making. The chapter also highlights ethical considerations, teacher training needs, and equity challenges, offering a balanced perspective on implementation. Future directions and strategic recommendations are discussed, aiming to inform educators, policymakers, and ed-tech developers. The discussion concludes by emphasizing the importance of human-centered AI design in fostering inclusive and adaptive learning environments.

Keywords:
AI in education, personalized learning, digital transformation, educational technology, learning analytics, ethical AI, inclusive pedagogy

What to Include in an Abstract (Chapters):

1. Purpose of the chapter – What issue or topic does it address?
2. Scope – What is the geographical, theoretical, or methodological coverage?
3. Key arguments or findings – Highlight main contributions or insights.
4. Methodology (if applicable) – Mention the approach or data sources.
5. Relevance – Why is this topic significant to the field or volume theme?

6. Implications – Who can benefit from this work (researchers, practitioners, policymakers)?
7. Conclusion or outlook – Indicate broader impact or future research direction.

Author Details

Please fill out the table below. If there are multiple authors, copy and paste the table for each additional author.

Full Name
Phone Number (with country code)
WhatsApp Number (with country code)
Email ID
Designation
Department
Name of the Organization / University
Institutional Address (with City & Country)
ORCID ID
Google Scholar Profile (optional)
Scopus Author ID (if available)
ResearchGate / LinkedIn Profile (optional)
Role in the Chapter (e.g., Lead Author, Co-author)

Short Bio of the Author (s): Around 80-150 words

Note: Once your abstract and author details are reviewed and accepted, you will be invited to submit the full chapter manuscript at a later stage, following the guidelines and timeline provided by the editorial team.