Chatbox will be saved and shared as well.

13:08:22 From Carol Blakeslee To Everyone:

I like this idea because often the summer school program is not long enough due to programming requirements...

13:09:09 From Carol Blakeslee To Everyone:

13:10:04 From Jean Fellows To Everyone:

the school district is sometimes a barrier to library participation-- good idea to get the Title 1 teacher involved.

13:11:12 From Patty Dalton To Everyone:

Here in Tennessee the Governors Early Literacy Foundation partners with the Dollywood Foundation to now send out age appropriate materials in the summer for grades K-2 (I think) They also match monies for the Imagination Library Programs in all 95 counties to send books out monthly for all children from birth - age 5. If you don't have the Dolly Parton Imagination Library program in your area go to their website <https://imaginationlibrary.com> to see how to get the program started in your community

13:12:33 From Beth Crist To Everyone:

To emphasize the power of reaching the migrant community, watch this video:
<https://storycorps.org/animation/the-bookmobile/>

13:13:11 From Pamela Larsen To Everyone:

Yes, @bethcrist

13:13:31 From Sariah Woodruff-Goll To Everyone:

I love this so much! We have a huge migrant population. I hold them dear in my heart because my mom was an ESL teacher at the camps and would take me every night with her.

13:13:40 From Sara White (she/her) WSL To Alana Magrum and All Panelists:

Hello Alana! Can we help you with something?

13:14:02 From Alana Magrum To All Panelists:

I lost audio after coming back from break

13:14:41 From Carol Blakeslee To Everyone:

Could you ask student volunteers to help with child care or story times, etc??

13:15:26 From Nancy Rodriguez To Everyone:

Yes, thats true

13:15:30 From Nancy Rodriguez To Everyone:

I'm Mexican

13:15:37 From Pamela Larsen To Everyone:

very true

13:16:19 From Emily Shade To Everyone:

We had patrons from a Middle Eastern country once who weren't sure they were allowed in the library 😞

13:16:51 From Diana Velazco To Everyone:

I like the idea of finding solutions instead of excuses of giving a "No". We must go beyond to gain their trust specially in their language.

13:17:24 From Carol Blakeslee To Everyone:

Are ESL teachers available and working within the program...

13:18:16 From Matthew Cross To Everyone:

The idea of libreria vs biblioteca was brought up early in my career.

13:18:22 From Carol Blakeslee To Everyone:

13:18:33 From Heidi Pruitt To Everyone:

Loved Melody's personal story

13:18:37 From Sara Rickard To Everyone:

What was the "Prime" program Melody mentioned?

13:18:45 From Milan Orozco To Everyone:

was that called Prime Time Book Group?

13:18:51 From Sara White (she/her) WSL To Alana Magrum and All Panelists:

Is your sound working ok now Alana?

13:19:00 From Kat Dressman To Everyone:

I think this is the website for Primetime Family Program:

<https://primetimefamily.org/prime-time-reading-families/>

13:19:02 From Rebecca Young To Everyone:

13:19:03 From Adrienne Butler -OK Department of Libraries To Everyone:

@Carol We have many librarians who have teen volunteers help prepare storytime and children's programs. They want to assist the librarian.

13:19:04 From Sarah Miller To Everyone:

Anyone have a link?

13:19:12 From Colleen Leddy To Everyone:

Prime Time Family Reading Time...it's a great program!

13:19:13 From Sarah Miller To Everyone:

Perfect!

13:20:07 From Breanna Winters To Everyone:

Love that you stocked the free libraries with books to fit your community!

13:21:01 From Jillian Lastoria To Everyone:

Love book walks! Our library just had the privilege to be able to put up a permanent one in one of our local parks

13:21:40 From Nancy Rodriguez To Everyone:

Thank you so much for helping our migrant community! 🍌

So cool!

13:25:47 From Amber Combs To Everyone:
How awesome!

13:25:58 From Joella Travis To All Panelists:
What a special experience for your community! I bet all the kids really loved it

13:26:04 From Jean Fellows To Everyone:
Great use of a resource!

13:26:30 From Heidi Pruitt To Everyone:
Looking for grants to help in serving underserved populations. Any suggestions or a link to a list?

13:26:46 From Jillian Lastoria To Everyone:

13:26:51 From Tammie Benham (she/her) -KS To Everyone:
@Heidi-coming up!

13:26:56 From LaKeshia Meredith To Everyone:
That is so true, it makes us more relatable to our patrons.

13:28:01 From Kim Kalweit To All Panelists:
@Heidi check out your local community foundation.

13:29:04 From Ashley Householder To Everyone:
We're very proud to be able to serve meals to kids and teens in the summer at our library.

13:29:08 From Sara White (she/her) WSL To Everyone:
Don't hesitate to put questions in the Q&A for us to address at the end of the session!

13:29:24 From Pamela Larsen To Everyone:
Our library works with the food bank to provide meals during all school breaks

13:29:32 From Jean Fellows To Everyone:
We don't qualify for any of the food programs:(

Food Banks

13:30:24 From Jean Fellows To Everyone:
Thanks!

13:30:34 From Dana Muller To Everyone:
We serve food all summer long, and have free little libraries all over community.

13:30:40 From Kimberly Boldt To Everyone:
If you have a Target in your area, they love to help here in the OCK area.

13:31:38 From Lisa - Marie Ellison Memorial Library To Everyone:
Save the Children has summer reading grants to be used for all things, including meals.

13:32:00 From Jean Fellows To Everyone:

We outreach to multiple camp programs in our area with story times and crafts--very well received!

13:32:16 From Gloria Abero To Everyone:

dollar general also sometimes has grants or other ways they give money to support community programs

13:33:16 From Alma Yazzie To All Panelists:

Are there any grants for Native American reservations?

13:33:51 From Annika Black To Everyone:

Someone posted about Dollar General grants:
<https://www.dgliteracy.org/grant-programs/>

The 2023 Family Literacy grant applications will be available January 2023.

The 2023 Summer Reading grant applications will be available January 2023.

The 2023 Youth Literacy grant applications will be available in March 2023.

13:38:05 From Carole Chenot To Everyone:

Thanks John!

13:38:33 From Jillian Lastoria To Everyone:

That just answered the question I was going to ask Melody thanks!

13:38:36 From Jasmine Rockwell To Everyone:

Go to grocery stores!

13:38:57 From Susan Strnisha To Everyone:

Thank you for the great information and to everyone posting links for grant opportunities!

13:38:59 From Dana Muller To Everyone:

We advertise through the schools

13:39:35 From Emily Shade To Everyone:

For those who have recently applied to DG grants, what sort of things do you request funding for? Last year, they only offered a small portion for incentives and presenters and pretty much all of our summer reading program falls into those categories.

We'll have a quick break after this presentation's Q&A and will be back at 2pm ET/11am PT for "All Together Now with Intergenerational Programming."

13:40:19 From Dana Muller To Everyone:

We have a great community outreach here, the past two summers, we we're also able to give each child whatever book was read that week during summer reading.

13:40:33 From LaKesha Meredith To Everyone:

I received a DG grant this year and I applied for Wonderbooks, audio picture books for struggling readers, I partnered with local schools to sign the kids up.

13:41:17 From Laura Hayworth To Everyone:

Thank you for an informative presentation!

13:41:33 From Holly Kirsten To Everyone:

One year we had a DG grant to buy books to giveaway at the programs we do at the free lunch sites in our community.

13:41:35 From Emily Shade To Everyone:

Thank you, LaKesha! Those are great ideas!

13:42:17 From John Russell To Everyone:

You can see the recent DG grant recipients on their webpage also.

13:42:19 From John Russell To Everyone:

Thanks everyone

13:43:02 From Bailey Clayton To All Panelists:

We had our local Page Turners group donate leftover books for us to give out to any child who came to the library during the summer. It went over very well and many children who didn't have books at home were able to build a home library

13:43:19 From Tammy Kruger To Everyone:

"We need to program for them just like we program for EVERYBODY ELSE!" Yes!
