

The Breakdown of Evan - God of Abundance

Name: Evan Silvanus Cummings

Gender: Male - He/Him/His

Age: Physical Appearance - 25; Actual Age - Unknown

Sexuality: 100% Homosexual, Polyamorous

Height: Ranges from 7 feet all the way to 20 feet baseline across all forms. Is able to grow much larger as his partners grow.

Weight: Depending on his height, can range from several hundred pounds to nearly 20 tons of pure, draconic muscle, baseline.

Physical Appearance: A built, very powerful young man with thick, glowing orange hair that runs down his back, almost like a groomed lion's mane. Has black facial hair. Has a pair of antlers-like horns that appear made of redwood. Has glowing green serpent eyes. Is extremely muscular and has tan skin. Has a long, green tail where his hair is lined with it. Has green scales lining his shoulders and back. Has a pair of large, green dragon wings on his back. Has claws for finger/toe nails. Has a pair of tusks on his bottom jaw. He often is seen wearing a golden, spiked collar and golden spiked cuffs around his wrists. Also has a huge tattoo on his left nut that has Krudar's face on it with the words "Krudar's Cum Factories" written. Has a massive cock that's human in shape but when limp, it's the size of his own body. When erect, it can grow anywhere from 3 to 100 times the size of his body, depending on the situation. He becomes quite the breeder beast.

Abilities:

- Flight

- Super Strength
- Teleportation - Still honing his skills
- Healing
- Fire-proof
- Botanokinesis, AKA Plant Manipulation
- Extreme Growth
- Power Amplifier
- Duplication of himself/Merging
- Reality Fluctuation/Manipulation
- Aura Sensing/Reading
- Botano-Clairvoyance
- Shapeshifting

Personality: Is very easy-going and typically very friendly. Wears his heart on his sleeve and is very true to himself. He is a huge people-pleaser, especially to the men in his life he loves. His emotions are very strong and he means them, so when he feels positive emotions, they are very powerful. However, when he feels negative emotions, they weigh in on him like the world on his shoulders. This can be a blessing or a curse. But often, he is very cheerful, supportive and extremely loving, to his friends, his family, and his lovers. Has an extremely huge heart so he may have multiple lovers that mean everything to him. Always wants to get along with everyone he meets and will become stressed and anxious if met with conflict about him, always trying to correct things and be a better him for himself and others he cares about. This often leads to him thinking that he did something wrong if he detects a change from the men around him. He does not anger easily at all, often letting things roll off his back. He's a huge lover through and through, but do not ever mess or disrespect those he holds close to his heart. That is the only way to truly enrage him. And when he finally comes down, he is sorrowful and tries to mend what was broken the best he can. All around, he is a lover, a gentle giant, and VERY aggressive in bed with those he is close with. Is extremely sexual as well, he is a huge sex addict and if he likes you, he's fucking you and turning you into a colossal cum tank. There's no arguing with him (unless you aren't into that, then he'll of course respect your boundaries. But he's a bit of a brat and if he likes you but isn't allowed to grow you, he might get frustrated and not like you as much lol).

Trivia:

- Evan's full name is Evan Silvanus Cummings
- Evan is fluently bilingual, knowing English and Spanish, turning trilingual as he is currently learning Orcish
- Evan is able to traverse and manipulate different realities and universes, often to his own liking and choosing but will usually leave behind a fixed point in time when he began the changes in case he wishes to revert anything back to what it once was.
- His favorite genre of music is Pop but he enjoys anything that sounds harmonious and majestic, especially with piano and violin.

- Evan now has an Orc boyfriend (Krudar) and Beetle boyfriend (Bug) he cares about immensely who have aided, changed, and empowered him to be who he is today.
- He has a massive heart and if he is fucking you, he's in love with you. He catches feelings really easy and wants to be your best friend and lover.
- When Evan is left to his thoughts, he often begins humming a tune and moves his fingers up and down randomly. He doesn't quite remember what it sounds like when asked about it, but he does describe it as involving a piano. Perhaps it's a melody of nature that only he can hear...? Is someone sending him a message...?
- Evan had 2 fathers when he came to be: A human titan of a man known as Arnold: God of Desire, and Uuldrar: God of Nature, AKA the Earthshaker. Uuldrar was his birth father but Arnold gave him a new form to appear more humanoid later down the line. Evan can switch between the two forms with ease
- Evan is a bit of a bookworm, especially when it comes to studying the Ancient Relics within the Temple of Uuldrar. This is where he hones in on his magic and powers, enhancing and growing strength, learning new powers. At first, his father disapproved until he saw the great potential Evan harbored.
- Evan's favorite flowers are Lilies, especially Stargazer and Lily Of The Valley. To him, Lily Of The Valley make sounds similar to soft little bells.
- Evan can go from being a Himbo to being sophisticated and proper depending on who he's with. Krudar and Bug make him feel safest to be himself at all times.
- The more Evan becomes one with nature, the more flowers and trees begin to play music to him.
- Yes, Evan takes in Carbon Dioxide and breathes out Oxygen. He literally has the Breath of Life.
- In his human life, Evan is a nurse. It's in his nature to help and heal people.
- When it comes to sex, Evan has no limit in his libido. He could go at it anywhere from hours to eons, depending on his partner's limit and craving. He does prefer to top and cumflate his lovers absolutely enormous. Making his partners fat is absolutely addicting to him.
- Loves cherry tasting anything and sickly sweet fruit and dessert smells. And also Krudar's immense filth lul.
- Is able to read one's aura to see if they are good or evil, how strong they are, their health
- Is able to sense anyone and anything within a distance of anything plant related.

Origin Story of the Forest Dragons

In the beginning of time itself, there stood a forest; A forest so mighty and grand, even at its early stages of existing and growing, it was far larger than anything that could exist on Earth. This forest was known as the Ancient Forest, a vast and mystical place where wary travelers can find refuge among the trees, where gifts of nutrition and shelter can be found if proven they are trustworthy and come with no ill intent. The Ancient Forest is more than just a place of existence, but rather a beacon of power long forgotten.

The Ancient Forest was vibrant and radiating with greenery, almost to a point of glowing a sort of aura. It is found that the Forest was even sentient, responding to attempts of harm within its sacred grounds by throwing out intruders who dare disturb the tranquility of the Forest. The most common tree that make up the landscape of the Forest are Giant Sequoias, which are powerful, sturdy trees that can reach nearly 20 miles in height and 2 miles in diameter. These trees provide great shelter and barriers around and within the Forest, shield its inhabitants from the elements and providing immeasurable nutrition from the fruit they bare. The true age of these great trees is unknown as they have stood erect for eons, ever flourishing. There is a source of magic that keeps these trees from ever meeting their demise, even going so far as to becoming fire-proof, no matter how hot a flame burns. This is so as to continue providing the protection and shelter for all inhabitants within the sacred grounds of the old forest.

At the heart of the Forest stood a temple. A temple so immense and broad, humans were ants in comparison. The temple was made up of of sequoia bark, vines, and greenery, adorned with hieroglyphics and prophetic images along its walls. Aged, crackled tile acted as the Temple's floor, providing stability for those who entered its' ancient walls. Statues of creatures could be found in each room and corridor within the building, creature of glimmering scales and antlers. These creatures were known as the Forest Dragons.

The Forest Dragons were a race of powerful, Titanic beasts that roamed the Forest, acting as keepers and Guardians of its sacred grounds. They maintained order in the Forest, ensuring it continued to flourish and grow while protecting anyone who was worthy of living within the realm. Each of them had herculean bodies and special talents gifted to them by their father, Uuldrar.

Uuldrar is the great, mighty, and powerful Forest Dragon God, also having the nickname of "The Earthshaker". He was the beginning of it all, having created the Forest and created these ancient relics which are part of his own power. Uuldrar is a vast, mammoth titan of a Dragon, typically ranging from 100 feet to beyond that. He is absolutely colossal, his movements being felt all around his realm when he is awake. He is all-powerful and all-seeing within his forest, knowing when danger approaches and knows who is within his forest at any given moment. The Earthshaker can be very ruthless and hostile, should he be disrespected within his own home. However, should he be worshipped and praised, he can be welcoming and hospitable, depending on just how much one worships. His mountainous muscles show off his great, boundless strength as he is also adorned with fur that shimmers gold in the sun. Uuldrar is masculinity incarnate as the most noticeable part of him is his monstrous, magnum dragonhood found under the macro Dragon. Between his herculean legs, a set of bloated, noisy testicles can be found that are comparable to the size of a two-story house. Paired with that, Uuldrar has a member that easily surpasses trains with several carts, being adorned with bulging, thumping veins that run along his gargantuan shaft. His monstrous dragon cock ran as long as 150 feet long and had a diameter of at least 20 feet. Only a true titan could withstand such a shaft penetrating their very being. When Uuldrar finds such a titan, he usually never lets go or eventually vore them down his shaft to add to his ever-expanding bulk. He dubs those who have fallen to this fate as his "horde", as he believes a dragon should have a horde of treasure to keep and protect.

Uuldrar is a mighty beast of a Dragon, but he is also a father. Through the millenniums, Uuldrar bore several children of his own, all created in his image and likeness. Each of them came directly from his goliath member, blessed with their own attributes and gifts bestowed upon them from their father. Their task in life is to simply promote life, protect the Forest and bring forth love and peace. That is the best way to truly represent and honor their father who created them. Uuldrar had 5 sons in which he created in his image, the youngest never truly living Uuldrar's side while his older siblings went separate ways in the Forest, making their own space to have their own escapades.

Uuldrar and his youngest son, Evan, had a special connection that not even his older siblings has with their father. Evan was essentially a miniature version of Uuldrar yet was more of a submissive top to Uuldrar. Uuldrar promoted incestuous love-making in his family as a way to show love and worship to one another but especially to him. Evan, being 20 feet tall and 20 feet wide, was an absolute unit of a Dragon. He had orange fur that shimmered much like his father's hair would. His build was herculean, having very large muscles to keep him sturdy and strong, and he also had a set of antlers much like his father. He was the runt of the dragon family, being the smallest, yet when it came to cock size, he outranked all of his brother and nearly rivaled his own father. When erect, Evan's dragonhood stood at a whopping 100 feet in length and nearly a girth of over 15 feet. Evan was very easy-going and overall friendly and hospitable to all, no matter their background. He showed kindness and had a very gentle nature, welcoming all like a long-lost brother. In his true core, Evan was a lover, not a fighter. Evan was not very quick to anger but only a few things set him off. If anyone tried to force themselves on his rear-end or harmed any of his lovers/brothers/father figures, Evan will become enraged and go on a true, draconic rampage. When Evan is enraged, only his family can tame his anger, typically through usage of their colossal asses by milking the tension right out of Evan's member. When returning to normal, Evan becomes docile like a lamb once more, being truly apologetic about the damage he's caused but being Forest Dragons, the race all have powers that heal the Forest and make it grow once more. Although all Dragons have their own dens in parts of the Forest, Evan never truly left Uuldrar's den to create his own space, being too much of a "Daddy's boy" to venture off on his own; A title given to him by his father and a title he proudly wears as he is absolutely in love with Uuldrar. The love Evan possessed for his Father, Uuldrar, is a love that transcends beyond all barriers. To Evan, nothing is more sacred and powerful than the love between a Father and his son.