

Jesse Amoroso

President and Chief Operating Officer, Amoroso's Baking Company and 151 Foods

Jesse Amoroso is President and Chief Operating Officer (COO) of Amoroso's Baking Company and 151 Foods. He is a fifth-generation member of the Amoroso family and a graduate of The University of Pennsylvania, who has been immersed in the business from a young age, formally joining in 2010. For the past 15 years, Jesse has held numerous positions across Amoroso's, including Production, Sales and Marketing Associate, Finance and Accounting, and Business Development. Prior to joining Amoroso's, Jesse worked as a financial analyst at Financo, a boutique investment bank.

Jesse is heavily involved in the industry and passionate about giving back to the community. He has served as Co-Chair for NextGen Baker, American Bakers Association, and Board of Directors for the Independent Bakers Association. Most recently, Jesse has been a member of Drexel University's Food Lab Advisory Council, a food product design and culinary innovation lab that applies culinary arts and science to improve the health of people, the planet and economies, and previously worked alongside the Children's Scholarship Fund Philadelphia, staying connected and involved with the community.

Jesse resides in Philadelphia, PA with his wife Jordyn, their two kids, and a Dalmatian named Domino. In his free time, Jesse enjoys cooking, skiing, anything music related and loves to try new bites throughout Philadelphia.