

1st page - Imagine you are witnessing the events of 9-11 and you have a person close to you inside of the building, and you would be in a hopeless situation and feeling powerless. But there was the small amount of hope that they would survive. These are how the family members of the people on the Malaysian flight 370 felt. They still have little amounts of hope that their family is still alive.

Title page - On March 8 2014, Malaysian Flight 370 disappeared into thin air. Many theories have been created and I am going to explain some of the major ones

-----possible theories / Auxiliary questions

- North Korea took MH370
- Lithium battery
- Explosive cargo hold.
- DOD Employees Involved In Electronic Warfare & Weapons That Can "Cloak" Or Make Planes Invisible.
- Turning a Boeing 777 into a nuclear, chemical or biological weapon

Page three ---- Auxiliary questions

- change direction
- Original destination is Beijing,
- origin location Kuala Lumpur,
- 227 passengers,
- 12 crew,
- Boeing 777-200ER type of aircraft,
- 14 nationalities represented
- Cock pit fire

Page Five - the largest question is the debris that is found. the only thing that was found was a wing flap. a very hard piece to have separated from the plane. So I will refer to this as the X factor in the presentation

Page six - weapon creation... This theory is all based around a hijacking of the plane. the theory states that the plane was hijacked by two men thought to be members of ISIS. These men would then have flown the plane to a private airport in a location in the middle east. Here all types of weapons would be attached to the plane. This theory would be supported by the fact that the plane changed flight path in the middle of the flight. But again the X factor raises question in this theory.

Page seven - 404 error..... This theory could be seen as a major coincidence, or an event that makes complete sense. 404 refers to the message is returned when a web page can't be found. and flight 370 was 404th plane off of the production line. It was not found. so was it 404 error not found for the plane just as it was for the web pages.

Page eight - Shot down by America.. This theory is quite simple, It goes that America thought it was a threat against the USA, so it was taken out. But again the X Factor puts a major hole in this theory. Wouldn't there be more debris for a destroyed plane

Page nine - MH17 break down----- Just as the weapon theory, this one involves a hijacking. This theory states that MH370 was taken and turned into MH17. To cover this up, MH17 crashed and was destroyed. This is thought to be a possible theory, because it seemed MH17 seemed to be created out of thin air. But there are many notable differences between the two planes.

Page ten - Trench break down---- I have created my own theory, and i am calling it the Java trench theory.

Page eleven - I think that the simplest explanation is the best. I think that the plane just landed in a place in the sea where it is hard to reach. In this diagram we see that the java trench is well within the estimated flight time for the plane. and there was a Mechanical issue with the plane causing it to crash and sink into the deep sea.

Page twelve- Survey----- I have did a survey and here are the results, and it is pretty much even throughout each different option. this is because there is no real evidence supporting any theory, and each one has things that disprove the theories too. But I have been withholding information from you and this is regarding the x factor.

Page thirteen - The x factor----- Recent evident has arose that the wing flaperon was planted in this location and not a part of the real plane. This is not 100% confirmed, but it is though to be very likely. Without this evidence it opens the door for many theories that have been ruled out.

Page Fourteen - With that I am able to leave you with the question what do you think happened to Mh370? and giving you the chance to create your own theory.
