

First AU's Riddle.

7-3

1 & 2

11 is standing still

7 is coming home

Okay, let's start:

Torren Corvus Cross, The Kingslayer, The Mistwalker, The Last Cross, The Strongest Human, 7th Unknown

Torren is an unbelievably powerful human, the single strongest human in the entirety of the Arcane Universe. He is said to have the power to destroy multiple planets. Torren was the strongest person there was. He destroyed armies and kingdoms for the sake of his own king's empire. He was a merciless killer, they say when he fought, it was like a dance of death. His kingdom's name was the Roland kingdom, which sat upon the largest mountain side in recorded history. Hades controlled Torren to destroy his hometown, Ian's Cross and his entire kingdom, nobody was left alive. After this, Torren fell into a deep depression and became a wandering mercenary who would destroy kingdoms and islands. After some time, people began to think that Torren was killed by Hades, Ruler of the Underworld, near a supervolcano or that he drowned himself due to his depression. It turned out that Torren found a powerful curse. Torren is the current user of the Darkflame Curse, one of the 5 Grand Fire Curses made by Prometheus in hopes they would one day be used to destroy Cursebeard. Torren's ability is to grow stronger through battle, this ability scales infinitely. After receiving the Darkflame Curse, Torren could not handle the power and went mad. His deep depression and sorrow from destroying his homeland made the curse inside him stronger, which ended up making Torren lose his mind, ability to speak and more. It is rumored that Torren killed Freedrock several times over and could kill him endlessly, despite Freedrock becoming twice as strong after every death. It is also said that he and Freedrock were once comrades in the past. Due to him becoming a mindless rampaging monster who was a threat to the world, he was sealed away by 6 other members of the eleven unknowns. The group that trapped him included Freedrock, none of the members of this group were human. He is trapped somewhere under the sea unable to escape. It is believed Torren is trapped underwater somewhere in the Third Sea (Sea's Torment) or the Old Sea. Legends say that if 4 people

That's what I know about Torren Corvus Cross. In my opinion he could be a very important character for this riddle.

1. 7-3 - Yeah, I checked probably all possible variants of this line's meaning. But unfortunately I couldn't find the right one. Maybe there is some small piece of information mentioned by Tech 4-5 years ago that I missed. For now, I will assume that Torren really went from 7th unknown to 3rd unknown.

Another possible variants that I didn't check:

1. Torren (7) is going to the Tartarus (3).

2. I couldn't find a constant list with numbered Greek gods, but in one of them Athena was third. Since Torren's homeland was retconned and replaced with Athens, I can guess that he went to her and asked for some help maybe?

3. Same as theory #2, but Zeus instead of Athena due to another list of gods.

2. 1 & 2 - Could mean two things staying next to each other for some reason. This one line's meaning is highly dependent on the previous line. If Torren went from 7 to 3 place, then this line refers to Chaos & Creation.

Another possible variants that I didn't check (Each variant here is binded to the same variant in previous line):

1. No idea. Maybe he meets someone there?

2. Torren and Athena are on their way to Freedrock.

3. Torren and Zeus are on their way to Freedrock.

3. 11 is standing still - It means that Freedrock is still alive and has something to fight with? Some enemy or mental problems caused by something? (It is not rare in this universe)

4. 7 is coming home - Let's assume that Tech actually put some secret in between lines that can be discovered only by looking for this song's lyrics.

Eleven is standing still (Waiting for me)

Waiting for me to free him by

Coming home

1. Torren saves Freedrock alone.

2. Torren saves Freedrock with the help of Athena.

3. Torren saves Freedrock with the help of Zeus.
