Round 1

Room 1: Pacific Integral - 7 Facets of Awakened Wholeness — Abigail Lynam/Geoff Fitch

Liberating the deep potential of human being & relating. We create containers for profound transformation where personal awakening and collective evolution emerge together.

Pacific Integral's work sits at the intersections of awakening and developmental unfolding, and the interdependence of individual and collective awakening and emergence. We engage with an ecology of practices titled the seven facets of awakened wholeness. Rather than treating them as separate dimensions, we engage them as doorways into the wholeness that's already here.

Join us for our upcoming series of open workshops starting December 9th, exploring the seven facets of Awakened Wholeness. Check out the connected film series directed by Tucker Walsh.

Looking forward to engaging together!

Room 2: Microsolidarity — Jocelyn (Ames) Endres

What does it take to be the kind of person who brings out the best of a group?

And what does a dinner party have to do with building a network state?

Microsolidarity is a community-building framework, as well as a network of practitioners researching the building blocks for belonging, purposeful connections and meaningful work. Together we're developing a roadmap for reweaving social fabric.

Visit www.microsolidarity.cc for essays, videos and practices, plus the 'Belonging on Purpose' card deck

Join the Microsolidarity newsletter for monthly updates, events and resources

Check out our YouTube channel for interviews and conversations with practitioners

Room 3: Second Renaissance Magazine — Sylvie Barbier

The Second Renaissance Magazine, for transformative art and ideas - to birth a new future.

The Second Renaissance Magazine is a cultural beacon for a new era of art — a vessel of vision, beauty, and becoming. Each issue, shaped by the Art of the Second Renaissance Manifesto, gathers artists, writers, philosophers, and performers whose voices awaken transformation and healing in an age of meaning crisis.

Our dream is to create not just a magazine, but an experience — a doorway into another world. When you open its pages, we want you to feel the pulse of a living renaissance, to sense the renewal of art as a sacred force.

We've made a first prototype issue on Impermanence and now we want to make it a yearly publication. To bring this vision fully, we need founding subscribers, readers to make it sustainable.

Round 2

Room 1: Emerge Lakefront Campus Stockholm — Ivo Mensch / Yuliia Naydich

Emerge Lakefront Campus Stockholm is more than a place to live—it is a dynamic hub and developmental community where aspiring changemakers converge to co-create a regenerative future. Designed as a living laboratory, it brings together innovators, activists, and creatives committed to systemic transformation. By bridging disciplines and fostering collaboration, we aim to drive meaningful impact and tangible change. Lakefront is not just a place - it's a growing pulse in a global network of emergence.

Room 2: VillageCo — Jason Sears & Christine Callo

VillageCo is a volunteer-led, grass roots nonprofit that supports individuals leading local community projects using our Village Model. [5 Min Video Intro]

Villages are community-led, self-sustaining groups with a purpose of promoting connections, holding space for meaningful conversations, and generating local engagement.

The Village Growing Cohort is a program organized by VillageCo to support people passionate about community and bringing neighbors together using our Village Gathering Model.

 VillageCo Village Growing Cohort Overview

Our next cohort starts in January - Register for the Infosession & Dialogue here

Room 3: Orbital Studies Magazine — Xavier Snelgrove

ORBITAL STUDIES

Orbital Studies Magazine is a literary science magazine. We cultivate a poetically-attuned culture in the sciences, publishing beautifully crafted non-fiction, fiction, poetry and visual art on science, nature, math, technology, and the philosophy that relates them. Awe is the foundation of scientific curiosity, and knowing our world more deeply is an expression of love and an inherent good.

Submissions are still open until December 10th for our first issue Ways of Seeing the Objective World. You can also sign up for our mailing list to hear when subscriptions become available.

Round 3

Room 1: The Soul School — Faith Chiang

Soul Coherence Studio – Faith Chiang, founder

Soul Coherence Studio is launching The Soul School early next year - an emergent learning community for people committed to soul-centric living and experiential learning.

Our core premise: Soul Work IS World Work. Through “Souling” Technologies (ancient practices updated for our time), we're learning to work generatively with the light and dark in ourselves, unlocking creative power through embodied practices, ritual, and relational inquiry.

The Soul School offers rhythmically-attuned gatherings - daily Morning Musing, biweekly Soul Circlings and monthly Soul Seminary workshop series – where we co-shape the curriculum through the art of inquiry. We will also hold seasonal events like Soul Journeying for the collective good, and run year-long soul initiation/descent programs.

This is a soft launch and an invitation to “co-soul” with us. If you're hearing the call to respond purposefully to your Soul's deepest unique essence, you're invited to learn more.

Links to connect with us will be provided during the Oasis presentation.

Room 2: Casa Tilo — Natalia Lombardo

Casa Tilo is more than a coliving place, it's a home. For the co-founding couple Nati & Rich, and also for the extended communities they are a part of: Microsolidarity, Enspiral, The Hum, TPOT... We believe that some challenges can only be solved in the container of a supporting community, that's what Casa Tilo is for. <https://www.eltilo.casa>

Room 3: Limicon — Danielle Johnson

Limicon is a month-long open space convention dedicated to strengthening a growing ecosystem that is emerging.

The four main goals of Limicon are to: 1. build connection and trust between members of the emerging field; 2. create engaging spaces for individual development and practice; 3. nurture the ecosystem as a whole, 4. Be a deliberately developmental container.

Round 4

Room 1: Aletheia, Integral Unfoldment — Margot Tesch

Integral Unfoldment is a coaching modality that works from the paradigm that you are already whole, rather than the self-improvement paradigm, which works from the assumption that you need fixing and are broken in some way. Aletheia was founded by Steve March:

<https://integralunfoldment.com/>. I am a current Level 3 student, which equates to 3 years study.

I now offer coaching solely using this modality. I have over 230 hours coaching experience and a growing client-base. Details of my specific offering using this modality can be found at my website: coachingwithmargottesch.com. Aletheia has changed my life and it is an absolute joy to be able to bring it to others and share the gold.

Room 2: Navigator's Guild — "Arkhelion" Test Voyage ✧ — Gen Zendahl

Are you tired of watching from the sidelines? Is the big picture too big, your next steps uncertain? Join us as a Navigator aboard the Arkhelion — the mindful research vessel inside the Mythomatic World. Imagine D&D meets quirky wisdom and meaning

You can use mythic tools and get a quick peek into this myth world:

- »» the attention compass
- »» early star-maps of meaning
- »» Interludus Time and other inquiry games
- »» encounters with dangerous “beasts”
- »» shifting liminal weather
- »» hidden treasures
- »» and even find your porpoise (and perhaps your purpose)

Room 3: Ecoversities & the Reimagining Education Conference — Eileen Walz & Sergio (Yeyo) Beltrán

Ecoversities is a global alliance of learners and communities reclaiming diverse knowledges, relationships and imaginations to design new approaches to education. This 10-year old web now contains hundreds of projects around the world and has created innumerable collaborations, friendships, and possibilities.

We will also share about the Reimagining Education Conference, a close kin of ecoversities, which will run it’s fifth iteration this coming Feb. This online 3-day gathering brings together 1000+ visionaries exploring and enacting earth-connected, metacrisis-honoring forms of learning. Stay updated here.

Round 5

Room 1: EMUNAH ACADEMY — Ganga Devi Braun

EMUNAH ACADEMY of Multidimensional Living is a living ecosystem for personal and collective transformation. Our work sits at the intersection of the somatic, the sexual, the spiritual, and the systemic offering practical frameworks and embodied practices that help our students reclaim their life force, restore relational integrity, and align with their deeper values. We integrate trauma-informed wisdom, nervous system intelligence, and regenerative principles to support individuals and communities in bridging personal healing with collective evolution. Our frameworks are rooted in both deep theoretical study and direct experience, designed to be practiced in real life, in real relationships, and in real time.

We are currently offering the EDGE, a deep-dive course into embodied sexual energy as a source of power, presence, and purpose. We are preparing to launch BeginWithin 2026, a year-long container for those ready to live the transformation they seek. Accessible, community-oriented, and multidimensionally integrative, Begin Within will support participants in harmonizing the internal, interpersonal, intergenerational, and institutional aspects of life. In an age of compounding crisis, we believe this work is essential not as personal escape, but as collective emergence.

Room 2: Intentional Society

Intentional Society —

James Baker

(Advance preview of “new era” rollout at our 5-year celebration in Jan 2026): Expanding in scope after five years of developmental-relational exploration, Intentional Society is launching a new workteam serving the IS ecosystem and the Liminal Web alongside a $1.5M funding commitment.

- Learn more at the next IS Connection Call - Fri Dec 5th
- Next Practice Dojo event: Being With It All - Sat Nov 29th
- Next Intentional Ventures cohort launching early 2026
- Workteam Job Description (edit: filled by members, feel free to get in contact for future consideration) for part time roles

Room 3: Resilience Relief and Recovery Reach, Inc.

(R4) — Jessica Maness

R4 strengthens disaster response through community-led coordination and open-source tools like WNC-Supply-Sites, R4D2, and R-Link, helping neighbors meet real needs quickly and transparently. We avoid cookie-cutter solutions by listening to survivors first and ensuring communities have the tools and support they need to rebuild long after the crisis. Upcoming initiatives include a unified Community App for everyday resilience and Stepping Stones, which brings disaster-response speed and dignity to ending homelessness.

To explore R4’s tools, impact, and ongoing initiatives, visit r4reach.org or wnc-supply-sites.com where you can view active supply sites, disaster response dashboards, and programs.

Round 6

Room 1: Beyond Goals Intensive — Teresa Hart, Benjamin Carr, Sarah McManus

The Beyond Goals Intensive is a 5hr online workshop that uses live coaching, focused coworking, and structured activities to help people feel clearer and more aligned in their life. We've run these workshops 60 times in the last 9 years, helping over 2000 participants connect with what matters most, shape meaningful goals, clarify their path, integrate blocks, and find flow.

Our course curriculum weaves tools for pragmatic action within a coherence and embodiment-oriented approach to cultivating internal alignment. As a participant you will leave with a customized ecosystem of practices, systems and rhythms that will support you in living your life as it unfolds. Our annual New Years workshops on Jan 3, 4, 10 and 11 are run on a pay-what-you-want model (with a $35 deposit). We invite you to come and take the workshop and then decide how much you want to contribute based on the value you received! If you have any questions feel free to message us at team@gobeyondgoals.com.

Room 2: Leadership<sup>3</sup> Obenaus & Florian Huss

— Hendryk

Self-Organization for complex times through Collective Leadership.

Leadership<sup>3</sup> combines pragmatic methodology with cultural transformation to enable self-directed teams, agile decision-making, and sustainable resource stewardship towards a regenerative world. Our integral approach addresses three essential levels: personal mastery and authentic self-leadership, effective team collaboration with transparent roles and intelligent meeting design, and systemic consciousness for global challenges. Beyond metrics lies culture change: when people lead from their authentic capacity within evolving structures, they bring their wholeness to work. Leadership<sup>3</sup> supports evolutionary organization where complexity becomes navigable through conscious design, adaptive systems, and deep human trust. We explore and cultivate the competencies and cultures needed for leadership's future – and a regenerative world.

Room 3: Metachrysalis — Daniel Lindenberg

Metachrysalis is a real-world cooperative game and living framework that helps people and organizations collaborate toward regenerative futures. It bridges play, purpose, and praxis—turning the overwhelming complexity of the metacrisis into a metachrysalis: a stage of collective transformation where new systems can emerge. Through story, systems thinking, and open-source tools, participants (“players”) discover allies, map their gifts and roles, and take meaningful, right-sized actions that strengthen their bioregions. The approach engages all eight forms of permaculture capital and reframes regenerative work as joyful, relational, and deeply grounded in place.

Each Metachrysalis session guides participants through a gameful process of orientation, character creation, exploring localized dynamics, and co-designing real-world quests. It supports bioregional regeneration, collective sensemaking, and mutual empowerment across contexts—from long-term transformation to resilience building and rapid relief. Emerging from Daniel Lindenberg’s Mycelial Approaches to the Metacrisis fellowship and early pilots in Vancouver, Langley, and Milwaukee, Metachrysalis is now expanding across multiple regions. The initiative is stewarded by Thaumazo, a Canadian nonprofit supporting the people and projects using this framework to regenerate their places and relationships. For more information you can watch this presentation, head to the Metachrysalis website, or contact daniel@thaumazo.org
