

SEADOG SONG

You might know Chicago for its skyline
You might know Chicago for the lake
Chicago is a fun one
The great big Wild Onion
Those Dinkle's Sugar Sprinkles and the Frost on the Cake

(Buh dum badum dum dum)

Hello Seadog, well what do you know
Thank you for choosing City Cruises for this new riverboat!
The Wind is a-blowing, the sun will a-shine
The morning is arising from horizon on the Eastern side

Hey there Seadog, we're off and away
So wiggle all your fingers so I know that you'll stay
If you like Terracotta than this tour is for you
( ) And if you know Prudential Plaza you should see Prudential 2

Chicago was once just a prairie expanse,
With prairie the whole way around
But then arrived a man who really stood in a stance
Jean Baptiste Point du Sable was always Chicago bound!

du Sable saw Chicago with a glint in his eye
The class of a national hub
He built himself a cabin on the side of the bank
Which was right across the river from the East Bank Club

He said Hello America you won't believe what I found
This great place is called Chicago it's a very new town
And so do yourselves the favor, and follow my call
Just get on at Lake Ontario, and take a left at Mackinac

And then Chicago expanded just like the balloons
And there were settlers there were peddlers and Chicago Tribune
Chicago was clever, we know that it is
They found the greatest ways to get from Hermitage to Armatage.

There's many a plenty of parks in this place
Chicago is known for its parks!
There's Lincoln Park and Humbolt Park all over the place!
And and also Millenium Park

If you want Lou Melnati's, well you must be aware
There are many locations in town
But some of these locations have a limited space
And in some of them you can sit down

Hello Seadog, you look well today
And while you're visiting the city won't you say that you'll stay
But if the summer's too hot, every room is a steamer
You won't believe how quickly you can get to Lake Geneva

Hey there Seadog I'm sure that you know
That oh Chicago loves the architects like Mies Van Der Rohe?
His style renowned though Lake Point Tower is Odd,
Well it's the home of former Chief of Staff it's David Axelrod

Introduce Bongos

BONGOS

Every man of Graham Anderson, Probst and of White which were crowned and renowned for their work with the white Terracotta on top of the Wrigley facade were so since then commissioned for lists of the jobs like the the heard-it's-nice Merchandise Mart on the corner (its) postage all noted six-oh-six-five-four by the Post Office also that they had designed and by they I mean Graham Anderson Probst and White. (And) this office, this post office, grew in accord with the mail order royal Montgomery Ward which then planted the seeds which were so much to sow so as demanded the plans of Sears Roebuck and Co.

Oh but as Sears innovated and then demonstrated their space and location were plainly and dated so then in the minute and within the hour Chicago was graced with the greatest Sears Tower!

Chicago hosts the auto show in February
We always toddle, never dawdle, as du Sable could see
And still we have the thrill and so you'll all sing along

To this Chicago
Sea-dog
Song!
