

Valentine's Day TEXT

Created by Amy Shepherd, M.Ed.

Copyright © 2025

This Valentine's Day, let's create memories filled with laughter, love, and heart-shaped surprises waiting to unfold. If you'll be my Valentine, we can make this Valentine's Day magical together.

If you'll be my Valentine, we can take turns hiding our favorite toys. I'll hide my soft, pink teddy bear and leave clues that will guide you on your quest. Our hearts will race as you get close. What treasure would you hide for me to find?

If you'll be my Valentine, we can read a page-turning book that makes us wiggle and giggle and laugh with joy. Who do you think will giggle first?

If you'll be my Valentine, we can create one-of-a-kind cards. I'll draw a big red heart with crayons, and we'll use puffy stickers, fluffy pom-poms, and glue. Who will you give your card to?

If you'll be my Valentine, we can bake cookies shaped like hearts and frost them with red. Sweet smells will fill the air as they bake. Listen for the sound of the timer! When they're ready, we'll gobble them up until our bellies ache!

If you'll be my Valentine, we can put red roses in a vase, their smooth petals and lovely scent filling the room with joy.

With you as my Valentine, we can make this Valentine's Day magical together.

Happy Valentine's Day!