Whites	African Americans	Native Americans
<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. White people had a good time, without struggle on Route 66 in Texas. 2. When we would travel it was shorter travel time. 3. It was a happy time for us filled with exploration. 4. We are always excited for a new adventure and enjoy being the rulers of the time. 5. Today, we have made progress to the acceptance of all people but we are working to be more equal in all aspects of life. 	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. African Americans did not have the same travel on Route 66. 2. Even though we too could travel, we had to drive hours to find simple things. 3. We were angry with the differences in where we could go explore. 4. Even though we may have to struggle in our travel we still can seek refuge in The Green Book. 5. Today, we get to be brave and embrace our culture and live freely. 	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Route 66 made us angry because it went through where we live and we were forced to move. 2. Travel for us was unfair because we did not have a say in what happened to our homes and had to go on a different path away from Route 66. 3. We are treated similar to dogs and how we only get certain opportunities, including our homes when we left being made into tourist sites. 4. We are disappointed that we are treated in such a way, just because of our skin color and culture being different. 5. Today, we are treated better but are able to live freely within our tribes.
