

7 SHOCKING Reveals From Catfish Season 7

In season 7 of Catfish, Nev and Max went to tackle the catfish colonizing the world. Isn't it crazy they've managed to get so many seasons out of this? Why are there so many catfish? Jeez.

Anyway we all know what catfish is about, the phonies of the world, tricking vulnerable hearts into dark places by pretending to be someone they are not. Stringing people along, breaking hearts, trashing trust, and wholly screwing up someone's entire view of love, not cool. But, Nev and Max are here to save the day!

Max finished the show part way through season 7 and Nev had many guest stars helping him out, including Kamie who took over for the following season 8.

But while season 7 was in motion, they caught a lot of catfish and some of these fish were so extraordinary they came right out of the wazoo. Some of the people who catfish seem to be people who genuinely need help in accepting their identities, however others seem to have no compassion for the human condition and their empathic abilities went out the window long ago. That is why Nev and Max, as well as all the guest stars in season 7 are fighting harder than ever to catch these fish.

These are just 7 of the many absolutely insane reveals that we found scouring through season 7. Lets watch!

She even seems to admit that she would leave Mike for Jon if he is real. It turns out that it is actually her best friend from the cam website, Miles, who she shared all her feelings with. He's been giving her a lot of his money, and he didn't meet her because there were incidents with her and her husband. Miles truly wants her and loves her, but his lies and his fabrication of the character 'Jon' tells her otherwise.

'Chris' gets Shekinah to talk to his other girlfriend 'Takoya' and they become friends as his two girlfriends. It is actually someone called Joneesha, she actually created the Chris profile as a joke, she started the profile for a long time. The best part of this episode is when we see just how much of a mom Shekinah is, despite all the hurt, when Joneesha expresses how she feels and the hurt that led her here, Shekinah says they can be friends and gives her a hug, telling her it'll all be okay.

She has tried to meet him plenty of times but there have always been excuses. He's had a lot of different phone numbers and recently he hasn't even got on the phone with her. What is crazy about this is when they search him they find he has a few criminal records. They even search for his mugshot and it comes up. Kamie states ' He hasn't spoken to her on the phone for 6 months, why? Because his a** got locked up!' He then turns up and it actually is him. It turns out that the criminal record was mainly just speeding tickets. There is no big speeding ticket, but Rachael is a bit overwhelmed . So, it is a happy ending after all...
