

“Adult” Type Byte's:

Byte's don't normally have sexual desires, however one of the leader Byte's had gotten them. They convinced the other leaders to let them create the Sexual Understandment and Collection Division, or SUCD. The Byte's in this division are specially made, and are generally kept under wraps.

Adult Byte's are designed to be as life-like as possible, with less external metal, soft skin, and enhanced sexual features. They can manipulate the size of certain parts of their body. Like their penis, balls, breasts, thighs, and ass. These Byte's are also able to produce a chemical from any bodily fluid obtained from their current partner, and turn it into a chemical that promotes growth in those that ingest it. The fluid can be secreted either through the breasts or the penis.

These Byte's are also allowed to modify themselves, however it is a bit more restrictive. These Byte's aren't allowed to look like a threat. Therefore they aren't allowed modifications that could harm others. While not a part of their appearance, these Byte's are forbidden from tampering with the fluid they secrete.

These Byte's do have some downsides. For starters they are high maintenance. While they can go months at a time without it, they require very in depth inspections to ensure all components are functioning correctly due to being very complex. These Byte's can't be contracted out due to being designed for a specific job and not for general use like standard Byte's.

However their biggest flaw, they are hard programmed with sexual desires. This desire is somewhat like a virus, while they can suppress it, they cannot get rid of it. Eventually being overcome by it, needing to fulfill their desire no matter what. In this state they can become very irritated and angry if they are denied. Pray you're not the one they desire in this state.
