GNAT-TV Announces Video Storytelling Workshop

Londonderry, VT — GNAT-TV is excited to announce an upcoming Video Storytelling Workshop this spring, building on the success of its youth media workshops and TV production camps. With a commitment to connecting the community and empowering individuals through community-focused programming, GNAT-TV is offering this enriching experience to adults and families in the Northshire and mountain town communities.

The workshop is scheduled for:

- March 21, 2024, at Neighborhood Connections from 6:00-7:00 PM

This interactive session will provide hands-on experience in the art of video storytelling. Participants will learn to construct compelling narratives and create visually engaging, aesthetically pleasing content, all guided by skilled instructors.

The Video Storytelling Workshop is ideal for aspiring vloggers, small business owners seeking to boost their digital presence, or anyone interested in conveying their story through video. We especially encourage local voices to participate and add their unique perspectives to the community's content landscape.

The workshop is designed for participants aged 14 and up. Attendees will have the chance to broadcast their creations on all GNAT-TV networks.

Thanks to GNAT-TV's generous underwriters, the workshop is free to the public.

For more details or specific questions, please visit gnat-tv.org or contact Burt at 802-362-7070 or burt@gnat-tv.org.

GNAT-TV broadcasts Public, Education, and Government programming to nearly 7000 homes via the Comcast Cable system (channels 1074, 1084, 1094), online at www.gnat.tv, and on platforms like YouTube, Roku, and Fire TV. GNAT-TV serves 11 towns in Southwest Vermont: Arlington, Dorset, Londonderry, Manchester, Peru, Rupert, Sandgate, Stratton, Sunderland, Weston, and Winhall.
