

Page 1:

Log: "It's a relief that the Volunteers have been apprehended successfully."

Nile: "If it's Sergeant (?) Plxis then he'll get it done without problems"

Rand soldier: It should have been our jobs though...

Nile: Say even if everything goes well... We're causing the very group who's done so much for us to resent us...

Log: Haha, is that sympathy towards the Marleyans, Nile?

Nile: Seems like you're completely drunk, Log (Lach? Use lach for typeset if one)

Page 2:

Lach: The wine that the marleyans make are great, and the favors they bring meet no end. Even if that is the case, we still cannot let them be free. Maybe it'd be a different story of the boss they looked up to was really on our side.

We are the "Subjects of Ymir", and if Eren and Zeke use the power of the "Founding Titan", then can they not just change the memories of the masses?

Random soldier: Yeah... It's a very scary thought.

Nile: So, even if we use the volunteers as hostage, do you think Zeke Yeager would listen to our demands?

Lach: ...hell if I know. What a man who doesn't have long to live wishes for... That bastard can also take control of our brains... Well... I knew it would have ended up like this.

Page 3:

Nile: The queen has the authority to choose who her relatives are (heirs? I think it's more about the bloodline) (Nile also talks about something I'll try to translate this as best but i rly cant)

Wasn't it also proven that he's also someone who doesn't harm the lives of anyone else?

It is the same youth that has grown up on the same land as Queen Historia. He's said that he threw stones at the queen who did not seem to come out of the farm during her childhood. It was an act done to give her attention.

He also states that helping out at the orphanage the queen runs was because of the feeling of sin he had felt from what he had done in childhood

The one who had recognised his dedication of lowering his head and doing his work was the queen herself.

Page 4:

Lach: We should have fed Zeke to Historia as soon as he arrived on this island, as we had suggested.

But no way, she becomes pregnant...

Grabs any man without even a wedding... Just shows that the queen in name only is that much more insignificant

Nile: Hey

Stop

Page 5

Lach: There is no need to know what kind of relationship they hold between each other. The problem is why the queen committed such a sudden act, seeing she's this country's monarch?

Nile: It's because we coerced her like a puppet! Such a tragic fate was passed down to her, and who even has the right to question the queen's relationships!

Lach: That's not the kind of things I wanted to say. It's the timing of this pregnancy. In this time, by having a child with royal blood, our "exception" was nullified (think they're talking about the rumbling, dojn't quote me on it)

Someone had warned the queen. "The garrison is thinking of feeding Zeke to the queen as soon as possible". However, you won't have to become a titan until after you deliver. Someone had advised her so.

Lach: Isn't the queen also a brave soldier who's managed to escape from some dangerous situations? So now she's suddenly scared of the ascension of the "Beast Titan"?

...If Zeke wished that he had wanted to live for a little longer during his tenure, then that would be correct, but is there even evidence of this idea?

Someone from this island who had wanted to save Zeke had advised the queen. The volunteers.

It has to be Yelena. They say that she is the craziest one and one of the smartest among the volunteers, which makes her a dangerous girl.

Speech bubbles: But there is no evidence?

That the queen was impregnated in order to save Zeke's life!?

Aren't you just wasted, Lach

Lach: ...It's not too late. If she becomes a titan even with a child...

Nile: The baby would die. Moreover, if something happens to the queen's body, that's the end of it. Even so, her life is threatened by the delivery of the child anyway...

Page 7

Lach: The world is done for is you go by that logic.

Hey marleyan, bring one more bottle.

Marleyan: Understood.

(outside) Nikolo.

Nikolo: This is what you recommend, yes?

Page 9

Connie: Hey, to you guys... Did that seem like Eren? I don't think so. That bastard isn't Eren. If he ends up cooperating with the other side...

Mikasa: ...If he does, what?

Connie: We should be resolved to cut down the bastard.

Page 10

Mikasa: I won't be staying still if that's the case.

Connie: fucking death stare

Are you... also going to side with them, Mikasa

Mikasa: I'm not going to. Eren treasures us...more than anyone else.

Page 11

Jean: ...To think that General (i still don't know his title, typesetters fix) Pixis would even put that plan into motion...

Armin: They had said that everything had been decided while we were in Marley. The volunteers would be pensioned their own areas, and they had not told the survey corps the circumstances as the time for them and us to be in union is close by...

Jean: They.. couldn't have done it like that. Until Zeke's intent has not been verified, we are all currently in danger, and Eren, who had talked with Zeke exclusively, is now in huge favor of Zeke's plan... wonder what they talked about. Only they would know the truth.

Speech bubble: 1 year ago...

Connie: Hey... is this really our job?

Jean: ...no, we don't have to do it.

If that idiot go about saying something weird, such as this helping training our bodies and will help the island's development...

Page 13

Jean: Currently, we can only sit and wait for Hizul's reply.

Connie: There's no chance of that even happening?

What was it... Was it about the Eldians' human rights, or selling resources?

The most important thing is that we talk to the world through Hizul, and if we increase friendship and become a country of ourselves, then we won't even have to rely on the rumbling...

Jean: With that, Historia won't have to suffer through such terrible circumstances. We can only grasp at straws right now...

Connie: ..right.

Hanji: Hey~

Page 14

Hanji: As expected... Hizul will want the monopoly of Paradis island's resources, and won't allow the trading of it with other countries. It seems that they do wish for our human rights, but they are putting on a weird farce, as if they don't want to help anyone.

(wtf is this next sentence)

Not only that, they seem to wish that by making the world think that Paradis is a bud for disaster, and this will help countries and build up stability in the world.

Page 15

Hanji: It's hot today, thanks for the effort.

Jean: No... We had no choice as this idiot's escorts.

Eren: It is an urgent requirement?

Levi: You guys... only grew in size, it seems

Hanji: Just now, we received a reply from the Azumabitos.

Eren: ...!! So...

Hanji: It is a failure..

Seeing how it is, they probably can't aid us.

Eren: Then.. we have no choice but to trust in using the rumbling...

Is there no way to not sacrifice Historia?

Levi: ...yes. Hizul has intended for the rumbling, and also included increasing our forces as part of the treaty...

Armin: No way...

Is the world forcing the evils of 100 years ago onto us...? They don't know our intent, and concludes that we are devils on behalf of us... Why is everyone so against the peaceful path...(wording)

Mikasa: ...that's probably because they don't know... They're scared as they don't know what kind of people who we are.

Hanji: ...that's right. Nothing will change even if we went along with the plan Azumabito has set us. The world cannot trust someone whose faces they have not even seen.

So... let's go and meet them. If there is something we don't know, we can go there to understand.

Is that not the survey corps way?

Page 17

Speech bubbles: To infiltrate Marley and stand in their position...

You were thinking of that, Hanji.

The first thing to see would be the Marley cuisine

No.

There is a reason as to why we're investigating the circumstances of the world currently.

Well, it'd end in asking for help from either the volunteers or Miss Kiyomi.

Connie: Hmm~ well what should I bring? It wouldn't be good to have an upset stomach

Sasha: Gastritis medicine, toothbrush... and anything to remind us of home.

Mikasa: Were you even listening?

Jean: Nikolo said that there are many people with wine

Page 18

Armin: Thankfully Eldian language is also a public language so there are a lot of countries we can communicate with. We'd have to be careful with our accent or phrasing though.

If the world knew that we wished for peace... then as Hanji said, something might change.

Eren: Only if... we had more time. Zeke only has 2 years left.

Page 19

(The jump here is really weird, Eren is talking and Mikasa just goes wtf)

Mikasa: ...no way

Armin: We find someone else we can trust into a titan, and pass on Eren's "Founding" power.

Mikasa: I don't believe it. Eren still has time left ...!!

Armin: I know. This is why we should confirm with Eren, and explain.

Jean: We can't have someone who's closely affiliated with Hizul to become a titan. There are also many other reasons on why you can't become one, Mikasa.

Eren: Jean is right.

Mikasa: ... then who else?

Jean: me

To put it forward, my head is much better than Eren's. I won't go crazy and try to kill myself, or anything of the sort, and I'll exhibit excellent judgment to carry out a mission.

That's who I am. I don't like inheriting it from you, but is there any other genius than me?

Page 20

Connie: We can't have someone great like that die in 13 years then, idiot

Jean: ...huh?

Connie: You should become the leader of a ministry, or something. The one to inherit Eren's titan will be me. Eren, that'll be great, yeah?

Eren: Connie...

Connie: It's better than Jean, right? Me

Sasha: I don't like it. You're a fool.

Connie: What?

Sasha: Not "what?..." How can we leave something so important to an idiot.

Connie: ... what?

Sasha: Ha... you drive me crazy.

Page 21

Sasha: I'll inherit it. Among us, I can be trusted, and I have practise experience. I'm the only one left after the process of elimination, anyway.

Eren: you all...

Sasha: ...you don't want to do it? You're saying you don't want to?

Connie: ...no. What? That's just weird.

Sashe: Yes?

Connie: No... you were the one who said that we can't leave this to an idiot?

Sasha: Hmm?

Connie: You're even more stupid than I am

So you're contradicting yourself?

You don't know that?

Sasha: Yes?

Connie: Yeah?

Page 22

Eren: I have no intention of leaving it to you guys.

Jean: Why so?

Eren: You guys are all precious to me, more than anyone else.

That's why... I'd like for you all to live long lives.

Page 23

Jean: WHAT?! WHY're you suddenly becoming red? You bastard, what're you going to do about this atmosphere!?

Eren: ...sorry

Page 24

Armin: Jean, it's because of the evening glow.

Everyone's red now...

Jean: ...yeah. If it's like that, we can't do anything about it...

Speech bubble: Eren will take care of us.

I'm sorry I won't be able to translate pages for longer I got something to do, but here's hoping that OD will release HD translations instead, or someone picks up after me.

Apologies

(u/anewsymphony would probably pick it up from what I'm hearing)

this chapter really is wholesome
