

What is this zine?

Recipes of the Realms: Devildom Delights is a cookbook fanzine inspired by the foods presented in the game Obey Me! Shall We Date?. Our overall goal is to make a digital zine filled with unique recipes, fanart, and fanfiction to pay homage to Obey Me!.

What does this zine contain?

The finished zine will contain 25-30 unique recipes, 25-30 full illustrations as well as smaller art pieces, and 10-15 written pieces.

Will there be a physical print of this zine?

We will be releasing this zine as a PDF only. Due to the constrictions of Solmare's ToS*, we are dealing with as little money as possible in regards to merchandise. You are fine to print off your own copy of the PDF, but do be aware that selling any content in relation to the game for profit or outside of personal use is strictly prohibited by the official company.

Is this zine for charity?

Yes! In our interest check, we took a vote for which international nonprofit organization we would donate our proceeds to. With this vote, we will be donating our proceeds to Crisis Aid International to help those who have been affected by COVID-19. When the final product is released, it will be under a "Pay What You Want" model. With a minimum of $1, you will have access to the PDF. Any donations higher than this amount are greatly appreciated and will be going toward a great cause!

What are the positions for this zine and how many are you looking for?

We are anticipating to be looking for 8-10 chefs, 15-20 artists, and 5-10 writers. There will be collaboration between chefs, artists, and writers in order to make a cohesive presentation for the dedicated assignments. All contributors will receive a free copy of the final zine PDF.

Is there an age limit for contributors?

We do request that you are 13+ in order to apply as a contributor for this zine. Only SFW content will be produced in both fanart and fanfiction for this zine.

Will chefs be reimbursed for food cost when test making recipes?

We will not be reimbursing for any supply costs. Please take this into factor before applying to be a chef for this zine.

Will the recipes be listed in metric or imperial measurements?

All recipes will be written with both measurements in order to be as applicable to the reader as possible.

What kind of fanart will be presented in this zine?

We will be having artists for the front and back cover, full page illustrations with characters, food highlights, fake ads, and a few other small pieces.

What kind of fanfic will be presented in this zine?

The writers for this zine will be asked to write pieces for mock interviews, mock restaurant reviews, recipe background history, fake ads with testimonials, tips and tricks, and other small inserts. This is all in good fun and will have a mix of serious and comedic pieces.

Which characters are being highlighted in this zine?

All of the main and side cast characters will be represented in this zine through either artwork or written pieces or both. We will not be including the player character anywhere in this zine.

Do I need to have prior zine experience to apply for this zine?

No! This zine was inspired as a passion project and we hope that any applicants are also here to support our community with good food for the body, soul, and mind, as well as supporting those in need through charitable donations.

What happens if a contributor needs to drop out from this zine?

We understand that things can crop up, especially around the holiday season. Real life always takes precedence over anything else. We do ask if you are aware you need to drop out or require an extension to reach out to the mods before the third check-in so we have enough time to find a pinch hitter or fellow contributor to cover the assignment.
