Greetings friends of the Leah Ryan Fund and Powerhouse Theater!

Bumperactive is a Union Printshop based in Austin, TX. Online, we normally live at www.bumperactive.com

But if you're reading this, you're visiting the beta testing area for our latest project, an online community for bumper sticker creators, lovers, and aficionados!

Here you can:

- Design Your Own Bumper Sticker with our online tool (currently only functional for desktop browsing)
 - Order Any of The Stickers other people have created from our online catalog.

We're taking our first step toward sharing it with the outside world by sharing our link with the creative souls attending the Powerhouse Theater this weekend for the premiere of *In The Bronx Brown Girls Can See Stars Too (or The F*ck Is You Lookin' At?)*.

Our project is still very rough around the edges – a lot of the explanatory documentation still needs to be dialed in, and we still have a lot of work to do on the site design.

But we invite you to try it out and create your own bumper stickers, anyway :)

And you can use our special coupon code to receive a full, 100% discount on your order:
