

I Intro

My name is Saige (she/her & they/them). I'm 25 and in central time zone. I'm a tired, sapphic, biracial woman (I'm black and white) with no tolerance for racism, transphobia, homophobia, or any other forms of bigotry. I might come off as very sarcastic and snarky but I promise I don't bite. I consider myself pretty friendly and I generally enjoy connecting with new people.

II. General

This blog is for an original star wars character, Nyla Kyr'am. It is selective and will be low activity as I have several others and I'm working more to hopefully move across the country.

Dark themes will be present on this blog given the fact that she is first and foremost a villain (though i do have lightside AU's) I prefer my partners to be 18+ but that isn't necessarily a dealbreaker.

III. God - Modding

Don't do it. It kind of goes without saying but. Yeah. You do you, I will do me. Ya dig?

IV. Roleplaying

As stated before, I am selective, meaning I will only roleplay with mutuals. I don't always see new followers right away, but I do try to look over everyone's blog. Sometimes it just ain't meant to be my dudes, please don't take it personally. I would love to interact with both canons and oc's. I just need to be able to find partners' rules and bio pages and have an idea of what they're about and the type of character(s) they play!

My go-to style is usually para-novella. I like having a decent amount to work with. I also use icons but I don't expect my partners to match my style. We are all unique ducklings.

Disclaimer: Nyla is an intense character. There will be things she does and says which are absolutely terrible (there are lines which won't be crossed for obvious reasons, but still). Please know I don't condone any of her actions since many of them are incredibly violent and sadistic. She is a villain and she sure as hell is going to act like one. That is her main verse and that is how she will stay; I have no plans to redeem her. However, I do have a Light Side verse where she never turned to the dark side. This AU is an exception to some of the previous stated rules, since her heart would be full of goodness and hope still. These two verses work like a 'choose-your-own-adventure:' same book, different story.

V. Shipping

Shipping is not a big priority on this blog. Nyla is a cruel, calculating, manipulative individual so the toxicity levels would be off the charts. She doesn't feel consideration or love for other people, so all feelings would be unrequited. Of course some exceptions may happen, but they need to be carefully discussed and planned out in order for me to write them.

That doesn't mean she can't have other relationships. I am all for hateships, rivalries and the like. Even friendships are fair game, though those will be harder to form.

If there is ever smut written on this blog (hey it could happen, plus I have that Light Side AU) it will be tagged appropriately. Under no circumstances will I smut with minors.

VI. Asks / IMs

Send me things, I will love you! Mutuals who want to turn an ask into a reply or thread, I ask that you PLEASE make a new text post. It's not just for #aesthetic, but it shows up cleaner in the activity feed.

IM is for plotting, chatting and screaming so if we are mutuals, please don't hesitate to holla at a girl. Discord is also available to my mutuals.

VII. Triggers

With the nature of the character there are going to be dark and nsfw things on the dash. I will do my best to tag things. If you need something tagged lemme know!

VIII. OOC stuff

I really enjoy chatting with my mutuals and thread buddies ooc. I love making friends and screaming about our ideas and muses. For me it makes the experience that much more enjoyable. I also get that sometimes interacting with people can be draining, so I will never expect anyone to be "on" and readily available 24/7. It's not fair or realistic and I hope my followers can do the same for me.
