

Capítulo 1 La rutina diaria

Reflexive Verbs

1.1 Reflexive verbs

ANTE TODO A reflexive verb is used to indicate that the subject does something to or for himself or herself. In other words, it "reflects" the action of the verb back to the subject. Reflexive verbs always use reflexive pronouns.

SUBJECT REFLEXIVE VERB
Joaquín se ducha por la mañana.

The verb lavarse (to wash oneself)

SINGULAR FORMS	yo	me lavo	I wash (myself)
	tú	te lavas	you wash (yourself)
	Ud.	se lava	you wash (yourself)
	él/ella	se lava	he/she washes (himself/herself)

PLURAL FORMS	nosotros/as	nos lavamos	we wash (ourselves)
	vosotros/as	os laváis	you wash (yourselves)
	Uds.	se lavan	you wash (yourselves)
	ellos/ellas	se lavan	they wash (themselves)

▶ The pronoun se attached to an infinitive identifies the verb as reflexive: lavarse.

▶ When a reflexive verb is conjugated, the reflexive pronoun agrees with the subject.

Me afeito.

¿Por qué siempre te pones mis cosas?

Te despiertas a las siete.

¿No puedes lavarte el pelo con mi champú?

▶ Like object pronouns, reflexive pronouns generally appear before a conjugated verb. With infinitives and present participles, they may be placed before the conjugated verb or attached to the infinitive or present participle.

Ellos se van a vestir.	Nos estamos lavando las manos.
Ellos van a vestirse .	Estamos lavándonos las manos.
They are going to get dressed.	We are washing our hands.

▶ ¡Atención! When a reflexive pronoun is attached to a present participle, an accent mark is added to maintain the original stress.

bañando → bañándose	durmiendo → durmiéndose
----------------------------	--------------------------------

AYUDA

You have already learned several adjectives that can be used with ponerse when it means to become: alegre, cómodo/a, contento/a, elegante, guapo/a, nervioso/a, rajado/a, and triste.

AYUDA

Except for se, reflexive pronouns have the same forms as direct and indirect object pronouns.

•••

Se is used for both singular and plural subjects—there is no individual plural form. Pablo se lava. Ellos se lavan.

Common reflexive verbs

acordarse (de) (o:ue) to remember	llamarse to be called;
acostarse (o:ue) to go to bed	maquillarse to put on makeup
afeitarse to shave	peinarse to comb one's hair bañarse to bathe; to take a bath	ponerse to put on cepillarse to brush	ponerse (+ adj.) to become (+ adj.)
despertarse (e:ie) to wake up	preocuparse (por) to worry (about) dormirse (o:ue) to go to sleep;	probarse (o:ue) to try on ducharse to shower;	quedarse to stay; to remain
enojarse (con) to get angry (with)	quitarse to take off
irse to go away; to leave	secarse to dry (oneself)
lavarse to wash (oneself)	sentarse (e:ie) to sit down
levantarse to get up	sentirse (e:ie) to feel vestirse (e:ie) to get dressed

COMPARE & CONTRAST

Unlike English, a number of verbs in Spanish can be reflexive or non-reflexive. If the verb acts upon the subject, the reflexive form is used. If the verb acts upon something other than the subject, the non-reflexive form is used. Compare these sentences.

Lola lava los platos.

Patricia se lava la cara.

As the preceding sentences show, reflexive verbs sometimes have different meanings than their non-reflexive counterparts. For example, lavar means to wash, while lavarse means to wash oneself, to get washed, to wash up.

▶ ¡Atención! Unlike in English, in Spanish parts of the body or clothing are referred to with articles, not possessives.

La niña se quitó un zapato.	Necesito cepillarme los dientes.
The little girl took off one of her shoes.	I need to brush my teeth.

Indefinite and negative words

1.2 Indefinite and negative words

ANTE TODO Indefinite words refer to people and things that are not specific, for example, someone or something. In Spanish, indefinite words have corresponding negative words, which are opposite in meaning.

Indefinite and negative words

Indefinite words		Negative words
algo	something; anything	nada	nothing; not anything
alguien	someone; anybody; anyone	nadie	no one; nobody; not anyone alguno/a(s), algún	some; any	ninguno/a, ningún	no; none; not any
o... o	either... or	ni... ni	neither... nor siempre	always	nunca, jamás	never; not ever
también	also; too	tampoco	neither; not either

► There are two ways to form negative sentences in Spanish. You can place the negative word before the verb, or you can place no before the verb and the negative word after.

Nadie se levanta temprano.

No one gets up early.

Ellos nunca gritan.

They never shout.

No se levanta nadie temprano.

No one gets up early.

Ellos no gritan nunca.

They never shout.

► Because they refer to people, alguien and nadie are often used with the personal a. The personal a is also used before alguno/a, algunos/as, and ninguno/a when these words refer to people and they are the direct object of the verb.

—Perdón, señor, ¿busca usted

a alguien?

—No, gracias, señorita, no busco

a nadie.

—Tómalo, ¿buscas a alguno de

tus hermanos?

—No, mamá, no busco a ninguno.

► ¡Atención! Before a masculine singular noun, alguno and ninguno are shortened to algún and ningún.

—¿Tienen ustedes algún

amigo peruano?

—No, no tenemos ningún

amigo peruano.

AYUDA

Alguno/a, algunos/as are not always used in the same way English uses some or any. Often, algún is used where any would be used in English.

¿Tienes algún libro que hable de los insectos? (Do you have a book that talks about the insect?)

Note that alguno/a is rarely used in the plural.

—¿Viste algunos museos?

—No, no visité

ninguno.

VERIFICA

COMPARE & CONTRAST

In English, it is incorrect to use more than one negative word in a sentence. In Spanish, however, sentences frequently contain two or more negative words. Compare these Spanish and English sentences.

Nunca le escribo nadie.
I never write to anyone.

No me preocupo nunca por nada.
I never worry about anything.

As the preceding sentences show, once an English sentence contains one negative word (for example, not or never), no other negative word may be used. Instead, indefinite (or affirmative) words are used. In Spanish, however, once a sentence is negative, no other affirmative (that is, indefinite) word may be used. Instead, all indefinite ideas must be expressed in the negative.

► Pero is used to mean but. The meaning of pero is but rather or on the contrary. It is used when the first part of the sentence is negative and the second part contradicts it.

Los estudiantes no se acuestan temprano sino tarde.
The students don't go to bed early, but rather late.

Esas gafas son caras, pero bonitas.
Those glasses are expensive, but pretty.

María no habla francés sino español.

Maria doesn't speak French, but rather Spanish.

José es inteligente, pero

no saca buenas notas.
José is intelligent but doesn't get good grades.

Preterite Ser and Ir

1.3 Preterite of ser and ir

ANTE TODO

In Senderos 1 you learned how to form the preterite tense of regular -ar, -er, and -ir verbs. The following chart contains the preterite forms of ser (to be) and ir (to go). Since these forms are irregular, you will need to memorize them.

Preterite of ser and ir
	ser (to be)	ir (to go)
SINGULAR FORMS	yo	fui	fui
	tú	fuiste	fuiste
	Ud./él/ella	fue	fue
PLURAL FORMS	nosotros/as	fuimos	fuimos
	vosotros/as	fuisteis	fuisteis
	Uds./ellos/ellas	fueron	fueron

AYUDA

Note that, whereas regular -er and -ir verbs have accent marks in the yo and Ud./él/ella forms of the preterite, ser and ir do not.

- Since the preterite forms of ser and ir are identical, context clarifies which of the two verbs is being used.

Él fue a comprar champú y jabón.
He went to buy shampoo and soap.

¿Cómo fue la película anoche?
How was the movie last night?

¡Manuel! ¡Fuiste tú!

¡Los tienes desde hace dos meses, cuando fuimos a Toledo!

Lección 2 La comida

Preterite of stem-changing verbs

2.1 Preterite of stem-changing verbs

ANTE TODO

As you learned in Senderos 1, Lección 6, -ar and -er stem-changing verbs have no stem change in the preterite. -ir stem-changing verbs, however, do have a stem change. Study the following chart and observe where the stem changes occur.

Preterite of -ir stem-changing verbs
		servir (to serve)	dormir (to sleep)
SINGULAR FORMS	yo	serví	dormí
	tú	serviste	dormiste
	Ud./él/ella	s irvió	d urmió
PLURAL FORMS	nosotros/as	servimos	dormimos
	vosotros/as	servisteis	dormisteis
	Uds./ellos/ellas	s irvieron	d urmieron

CONSULTA

There are a few high-frequency irregular verbs in the preterite. You will learn more about them in Estructura 3.1, p. 104.

► Stem-changing -ir verbs, in the preterite only, have a stem change in the third-person singular and plural forms. The stem change consists of either e to i or o to u.

(e → i) pedir: pidió, pidieron

(o → u) morir (to die): murió, murieron

Nos sirvieron unas croquetas deliciosas.

¡Pedimos probarlas todas, y al final Manuel prefirió los calamares!

Verbs Like Gustar

1.4 Verbs like gustar

ANTE TODO In Senderos 1, Lección 2, you learned how to express preferences with gustar. You will now learn more about the verb gustar and other similar verbs. Observe these examples.

Me gusta ese champú.	▶	ENGLISH EQUIVALENT I like that shampoo. LITERAL MEANING That shampoo is pleasing to me.
¿Te gustan las clases?	▶	ENGLISH EQUIVALENT Did you like the classes? LITERAL MEANING Were the classes pleasing to you?

▶ As the examples show, constructions with gustar do not have a direct equivalent in English. The literal meaning of this construction is to be pleasing to (someone), and it requires the use of an indirect object pronoun.

INDIRECT OBJECT PRONOUN	VERB	SUBJECT	SUBJECT	VERB	DIRECT OBJECT
Me	gusta	ese champú.	I	like	that shampoo.

▶ In the diagram above, observe how in the Spanish sentence the object being liked (ese champú) is really the subject of the sentence. The person who likes the object, in turn, is an indirect object because it answers the question: To whom is the shampoo pleasing?

¡Me molesta!

¡Me encantan sus pantalas!

▶ Other verbs in Spanish are used in the same way as gustar. Here is a list of the most common ones.

Verbs like gustar
aburrir	to bore	importar	to be important to; to matter
encantar	to like very much; to love (inanimate objects)	interesar	to be interesting to; to interest
faltar	to lack; to need	molestar	to bother; to annoy
fascinar	to fascinate; to like very much	quedar	to be left over; to fit (clothing)

¡ATENCIÓN!

Faltar expresses what is lacking or missing. Me falta una página. I'm missing one page.

Quedar expresses how much of something is left. Nos quedan tres pesos. We have three pesos left.

Quedar also means to fit. It can be used to tell how something looks (on someone).

Estos zapatos me quedan bien. These shoes fit me well.

Esa camisa te queda muy bien. That shirt looks good on you.

▶ The most commonly used forms of gustar and similar verbs are the third person (singular and plural). When the object or person being liked is singular, the singular form (gusta) is used. When two or more objects or persons are being liked, the plural form (gustan) is used. Observe the following diagram:

▶ To express what someone likes or does not like to do, use an appropriate verb followed by an infinitive. The singular form is used even if there is more than one infinitive.

Nos molesta comer a las nueve. Les encanta bailar y cantar en las fiestas.
It bothers us to eat at nine o'clock. They love to dance and sing at parties.

▶ As you learned in Senderos 1, Lección 2, the construction a + [pronoun] (a mí, a ti, a usted, a él, etc.) is used to clarify or to emphasize who is pleased, bored, etc. The construction a + [noun] can also be used before the indirect object pronoun to clarify or to emphasize who is pleased.

A los turistas les gustó mucho Machu Picchu. A ti te gusta cenar en casa, pero a mí me aburre.
The tourists liked Machu Picchu a lot. You like eating dinner at home, but I get bored.

▶ ¡Atención! Mi (me) has an accent mark to distinguish it from the possessive adjective mi (my).

Double Object Pronoun

2.2 Double object pronouns

ANTE TODO In Senderos 1, Lecciones 5 y 6, you learned that direct and indirect object pronouns replace nouns and that they often refer to nouns that have already been referenced. You will now learn how to use direct and indirect object pronouns together. Observe the following diagram.

Indirect Object Pronouns			Direct Object Pronouns
me	nos	+	lo	los
te	os		la	las
le (se)	les (se)

- ▶ When direct and indirect object pronouns are used together, the indirect object pronoun always precedes the direct object pronoun.

I.O.	D.O.		DOUBLE OBJECT PRONOUNS
La camarera me muestra el menú.		→	La camarera me lo muestra.
The waitress shows me the menu.			The waitress shows it to me.
I.O.	D.O.		DOUBLE OBJECT PRONOUNS
Nos sirven los platos.		→	Nos los sirven.
They serve us the dishes.			They serve them to us.
I.O.	D.O.		DOUBLE OBJECT PRONOUNS
Maribel te pidió una hamburguesa.		→	Maribel te la pidió.
Maribel ordered a hamburger for you.			Maribel ordered it for you.

- ▶ In Spanish, two pronouns that begin with the letter l cannot be used together. Therefore, the indirect object pronouns le and les always change to se when they are used with lo, los, la, and las.

I.O.	D.O.		DOUBLE OBJECT PRONOUNS
Le escribí la carta.		→	Se la escribí.
I wrote him the letter.			I wrote it to him.
I.O.	D.O.		DOUBLE OBJECT PRONOUNS
Les sirvió los sándwiches.		→	Se los sirvió.
He served them the sandwiches.			He served them to them.

PRÁCTICA

- ▶ Because se has multiple meanings, Spanish speakers often clarify to whom the pronoun refers by adding a usted, a él, a ella, a ustedes, a ellos, or a ellas.

¿El sombrero? Carlos se lo vendió a ella.
The hat? Carlos sold it to her.

¿Las zanahorias? Ellos se las sirven a usted.
The carrots? They are serving them to you.

- ▶ Double object pronouns are placed before a conjugated verb. With infinitives and present participles, they may be placed before the conjugated verb or attached to the end of the infinitive or present participle.

DOUBLE OBJECT PRONOUNS	DOUBLE OBJECT PRONOUNS
Te lo voy a mostrar.	Voy a mostrár te lo .
DOUBLE OBJECT PRONOUNS	DOUBLE OBJECT PRONOUNS
Nos las están comprando.	Están compránd onos las .

La vendedora se las está sirviendo.
 La vendedora está sirviéndoselas.

Sara se la va a comer.
 Sara va a comérsela.

- ▶ As you can see above, when double object pronouns are attached to an infinitive or a present participle, an accent mark is added to maintain the original stress.

Comparisons

2.3 Comparisons

ANTE TODO Both Spanish and English use comparisons to indicate a lesser, equal, or greater amount of something—an adjective or adverb or noun.

Comparisons

menos interesante less interesting más grande bigger tan sabroso como as delicious as

Comparisons of inequality

▶ Comparisons of inequality are formed by placing más (more) or menos (less) before adjectives, adverbs, and nouns and que (than) after them.

más/menos + adjective
adverb
noun + que

▶ ¡Atención! Note that while English has a comparative form for some adjectives (taller), such forms do not exist in Spanish (más alto).

adjectives

Los bistecs son más caros que el pollo. Estas uvas son menos ricas que esa pera.
Steaks are more expensive than chicken. These grapes are less tasty than that pear.

adverbs

Me acuesto más tarde que tú. Luis se despierta menos tarde que yo.
I go to bed later than you (do). Luis wakes up earlier than I (do).

nouns

Juan prepara más platos que José. Susana come menos carne que Enrique.
Juan prepares more dishes than José (does). Susana eats less meat than Enrique (does).

¡Los calamares me gustan más que las croquetas!

La paella está más rica que el gazpacho.

▶ When the comparison involves a numerical expression, de is used before the number instead of que.

Hay más de cincuenta naranjas. Llego en menos de diez minutos.
There are more than fifty oranges. I'll be there in less than ten minutes.

▶ With verbs, this construction is used to make comparisons of inequality.

verb + más/menos que

Mis hermanos comen más que yo. Arturo duerme menos que su padre.
My brothers eat more than I (do). Arturo sleeps less than his father (does).

Comparisons of equality

▶ This construction is used to make comparisons of equality.

tan + adjective
adverb + como tanto/a(s) + singular noun plural noun + como

▶ ¡Atención! Note that unlike tan, tanto acts as an adjective and therefore agrees in number and gender with the noun it modifies.

Estas uvas son tan ricas como aquéllas.
These grapes are as tasty as those ones (are).

Yo probé tantos platos como él.
I tried as many dishes as he did.

▶ Tan and tanto can also be used for emphasis, rather than to compare, with these meanings: tan so, tanto so much, tantos/as so many.

¡Tu almuerzo es tan grande!
Your lunch is so big!

¡Comes tantas manzanas!
You eat so many apples!

¡Comes tanto!
You eat so much!

¡Preparan tantos platos!
They prepare so many dishes!

▶ Comparisons of equality with verbs are formed by placing tanto como after the verb. Note that in this construction tanto does not change in number or gender.

verb + tanto como

Tú viajas tanto como mi tía.
You travel as much as my aunt (does).

Ellos hablan tanto como mis hermanas.
They talk as much as my sisters.

Comemos tanto como ustedes.
We eat as much as you (do).

No estudio tanto como Felipe.
I don't study as much as Felipe (does).

Superlatives

2.4 Superlatives

ANTE TODO

Both English and Spanish use superlatives to express the highest or lowest degree of a quality.

el/la mejor
the best

el/la peor
the worst

el/la más alto/a the tallest

- ▶ This construction is used to form superlatives. Note that the noun is always preceded by a definite article and that de is equivalent to the English in or of.

el/la/los/las + noun + más/menos + adjective + de

- ▶ The noun can be omitted if the person, place, or thing referred to is clear.

¿El restaurante Las Delicias?
Es el más elegante de la ciudad.
The restaurant Las Delicias?
It's the most elegant (one) in the city.

Recomiendo el pollo asado.
Es el más sabroso del menú.
I recommend the roast chicken.
It's the most delicious (one) on the menu.

- ▶ Here are some irregular superlative forms.

Irregular superlatives
Adjective		Superlative form
bueno/a	good	el/la mejor	(the) best
malo/a	bad	el/la peor	(the) worst
grande	big, grown, adult	el/la mayor	(the) biggest (the) oldest
pequeño/a	small	el/la menor	(the) smallest
joven	young	el/la menor	(the) youngest
viejo/a	old	el/la mayor	(the) oldest

- ▶ The absolute superlative is equivalent to extremely, super, or very. To form the absolute superlative of most adjectives and adverbs, drop the final vowel, if there is one, and add -ísimo/a(s).

malo → mal- → malísimo

¡El bistec está malísimo!

mucho → much- → muchísimo

Comes muchísimo.

- ▶ Note these spelling changes.

rico → riquísimo largo → larguísimo feliz → felicísimo fácil → facilísimo joven → jovencísimo trabajador → trabajadorcísimo

¡ATENCIÓN!

While más alone means more, after el, la, los, or las, it means most. Likewise, menos can mean less or least.
Es el café más rico del país.
It's the most delicious coffee in the country.
Es el menú menos caro de todos éstos.
It is the least expensive menu of all of these.

CONSULTA

The rule you learned in Estructura 2.3 (p. 75) regarding the use of mayor/menor with age, but not with size, is also true with superlative forms.

Lección 3 Las fiestas

Irregular Preterites

3.1 Irregular preterites

ANTE TODO

You already know that the verbs ir and ser are irregular in the preterite. You will now learn other verbs whose preterite forms are also irregular.

Preterite of tener , venir , and decir
	tener (u-stem)	venir (i-stem)	decir (j-stem)
SINGULAR FORMS	yo	tuve	vine	dije
	tú	tuviste	viniste	dijiste
	Ud./él/ella	tuvo	vino	dijo
PLURAL FORMS	nosotros/as	tuvimos	vinimos	dijimos
	vosotros/as	tuvisteis	vinisteis	dijisteis
	Uds./ellos/ellas	tuvieron	vinieron	dijeron

► ¡Atención! The endings of these verbs are the regular preterite endings of -er/-ir verbs, except for the yo and usted/él/ella forms. Note that these two endings are unaccented.

► These verbs observe similar stem changes to tener, venir, and decir.

INFINITIVE	U-STEM	PRETERITE FORMS
poder	pud-	pude, pudiste, pudo, pudimos, pudisteis, pudieron
poner	pus-	puse, pusiste, puso, pusimos, pusisteis, pusieron
saber	sup-	supe, supiste, supo, supimos, supisteis, supieron
estar	estuv-	estuve, estuviste, estuvo, estuvimos, estuvisteis, estuvieron
INFINITIVE	I-STEM	PRETERITE FORMS
querer	quis-	quise, quisiste, quiso, quisimos, quisisteis, quisieron
hacer	hic-	hice, hiciste, hizo, hicimos, hicisteis, hicieron
INFINITIVE	J-STEM	PRETERITE FORMS
traer	traj-	traje, trajeiste, traje, trajimos, trajeisteis, trajeron
conducir	conduj-	conduje, condujiste, condujo, condujimos, condujisteis, condujeron
traducir	traduj-	traduje, tradujiste, tradujo, tradujimos, tradujisteis, tradujeron

¡ATENCIÓN!

Note the c → z spelling change in the third-person singular form of hacer: hizo.

► ¡Atención! Most verbs that end in -cir are j-stem verbs in the preterite. For example, producir → produje, produjiste, etc.

Produjimos un documental sobre los accidentes en la casa.
We produced a documentary about accidents in the home.

► Notice that the preterites with j-stems omit the letter i in the ustedes/ellos/ellas form.
Mis amigos trajeron comida a la fiesta. Ellos dijeron la verdad.
My friends brought food to the party. They told the truth.

VERIFICA

The preterite of dar
SINGULAR FORMS	yo	di	di
	tú	diste	diste
	Ud./él/ella	dio	dio
PLURAL FORMS	nosotros/as	dimos	dimos
	vosotros/as	disteis	disteis
	Uds./ellos/ellas	dieron	dieron

► The endings for dar are the same as the regular preterite endings for -er and -ir verbs, except that there are no accent marks.

La camarera me dió el menú.
The waitress gave me the menu.

Le di a Juan algunos consejos.
I gave Juan some advice.

Los invitados le dieron un regalo.
The guests gave him/her a gift.

Nosotros dimos una gran fiesta.
We gave a great party.

► The preterite of hay (inf. haber) is hubo (there was; there were).

Verbs That Change Meanings in the Preterite

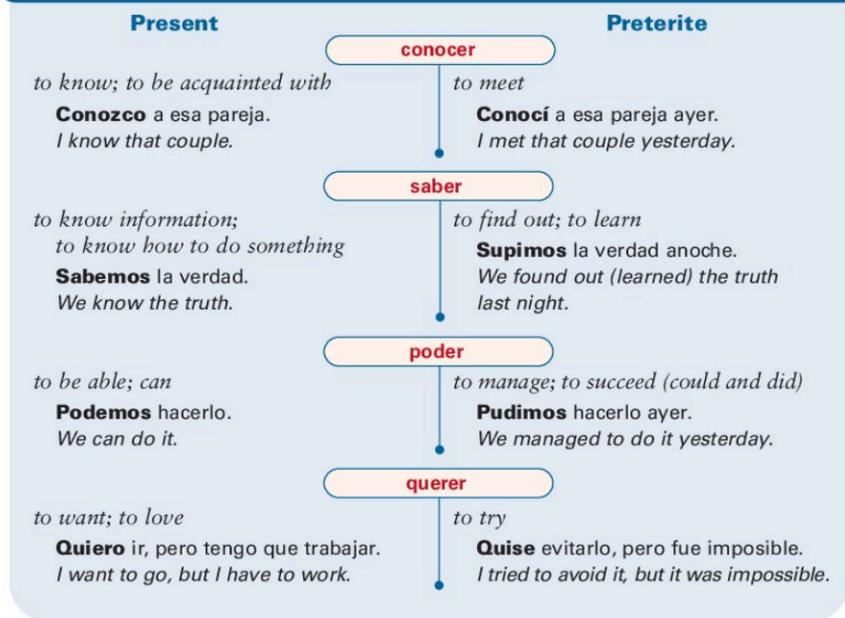

3.2 Verbs that change meaning in the preterite

ANTE TODO

The verbs conocer, saber, poder, and querer change meanings when used in the preterite. Because of this, each of them corresponds to more than one verb in English, depending on its tense.

Verbs that change meaning in the preterite

¡ATENCIÓN!

In the preterite, the verbs poder and querer have different meanings when they are used in affirmative or negative sentences.
pude I succeeded
no pude I failed (to) quise I tried (to)
no quise I refused (to)

¿Qué? ¿Cuál?

3.3 ¿Qué? and ¿cuál?

ANTE TODO

You've already learned how to use interrogative words and phrases. As you know, ¿qué? and ¿cuál? or ¿cuáles? mean what? or which? However, they are not interchangeable.

- ▶ ¿Qué? is used to ask for a definition or an explanation.

¿Qué es el flan?
What is flan?

¿Qué estudias?
What do you study?

- ▶ ¿Cuál(es)? is used when there is more than one possibility to choose from.

¿Cuál de los dos prefieres, las galletas o el helado?
*Which of these (two) do you prefer,
cookies or ice cream?*

¿Cuáles son tus medias,
las negras o las blancas?
*Which ones are your socks,
the black ones or the white ones?*

- ▶ ¿Cuál? should not be used before a noun; in this case, ¿qué? is used.

¿Qué sorpresa te dieron tus amigos?
What surprise did your friends give you?

¿Qué colores te gustan?
What colors do you like?

- ▶ ¿Qué? used before a noun has the same meaning as ¿cuál?

¿Qué regalo te gusta?
What (Which) gift do you like?

¿Qué dulces quieren ustedes?
What (Which) sweets do you want?

Review of interrogative words and phrases

¿a qué hora?	at what time?	¿cuántos/as?	how many?
¿adónde?	(to) where?	¿de dónde?	from where?
¿cómo?	how?	¿dónde?	where?
¿cuál(es)?	what?; which?	¿por qué?	why?
¿cuándo?	when?	¿qué?	what?; which?
¿cuánto/a?	how much?	¿quién(es)?	who?

Pronouns After Prepositions

3.4 Pronouns after prepositions

ANTE TODO

In Spanish, as in English, the object of a preposition is the noun or pronoun that follows the preposition. Observe the following diagram.

Prepositional pronouns

Singular		Plural
preposition +	mí	me	nosotros/as	us
	ti	you (fam.)	vosotros/as	you (fam.)
	Ud.	you (form.)	Uds.	you (form.)
	él	him	ellos	them (m.)
	ella	her	ellas	them (f.)

- ▶ Note that, except for mí and ti, these pronouns are the same as the subject pronouns. ¡Atención! Mí (me) has an accent mark to distinguish it from the possessive adjective mi (my).
- ▶ The preposition con combines with mí and ti to form conmigo and contigo, respectively.
—¿Quieres venir conmigo a Concepción? —Sí, gracias, me gustaría ir contigo.
Do you want to come with me to Concepción? Yes, thanks, I would like to go with you.
- ▶ The preposition entre is followed by tú and yo instead of ti and mí.
Papá va a sentarse entre tú y yo.
Dad is going to sit between you and me.

CONSULTA

For more prepositions, refer to Senderos 1, Estructura 2.3, p. 88.

Lección 4 En el consultorio

The Imperfect Tense

4.1 The imperfect tense

ANTE TODO In Lecciones 1-3, you learned the preterite tense. You will now learn the imperfect, which describes past activities in a different way.

The imperfect of regular verbs
	cantar	beber	escribir
SINGULAR FORMS	yo cantaba	bebía	escribía
	tú cantabas	bebías	escribías
	Ud./él/ella cantaba	bebía	escribía
PLURAL FORMS	nosotros/as cantábamos	bebíamos	escribíamos
	vosotros/as cantabais	bebíais	escribíais
	Uds./ellos/ellas cantaban	bebían	escribían

¡ATENCIÓN!
Note that the imperfect endings of -er and -ir verbs are the same. Also note that the nosotros form of -er verbs always carries an accent mark on the first a of the ending. All forms of -er and -ir verbs in the imperfect carry an accent on the first e of the ending.

Lo siento, señor, estaba distraído, no sabía que...

¡Sabía que no tenía que venir al hospital!

▶ There are no stem changes in the imperfect.

entender (e:ie)	Entendíamos japonés. We used to understand Japanese.
servir (e:i)	El camarero les servía el café. The waiter was serving them coffee.
doler (o:ue)	A Javier le dolía el tobillo. Javier's ankle was hurting.

▶ The imperfect form of hay is había (there was; there were; there used to be).

▶ ¡Atención! Ir, ser, and ver are the only verbs that are irregular in the imperfect.

CONSULTA

You will learn more about the contrast between the preterite and the imperfect in Estructura 4.2, pp. 141-142.

Uses of the imperfect

▶ As a general rule, the imperfect is used to describe actions that are seen by the speaker as incomplete or "continuing," while the preterite is used to describe actions that have been completed. The imperfect expresses what was happening at a certain time or how things used to be. The preterite, in contrast, expresses a completed action.

—¿Qué pasó?
What happened to you?
—¿Dónde vivías de niño?
Where did you live as a child?

—Me torcí el tobillo.
I sprained my ankle.
—Vivía en San José.
I lived in San José.

▶ These expressions are often used with the imperfect because they express habitual or repeated actions: de niño/a (as a child), todos los días (every day), mientras (while).

Uses of the imperfect

1. Habitual or repeated actions	Íbamos al parque los domingos. We used to go to the park on Sundays.
2. Events or actions that were in progress	Yo leía mientras él estudiaba . I was reading while he was studying.
3. Physical characteristics	Era alto y guapo. He was tall and handsome.
4. Mental or emotional states	Quería mucho a su familia. He loved his family very much.
5. Telling time	Eran las tres y media. It was 3:30.
6. Age	Los niños tenían seis años. The children were six years old.

The Preterite and The Imperfect

4.2 The preterite and the imperfect

ANTE TODO Now that you have learned the forms of the preterite and the imperfect, you will learn more about how they are used. The preterite and the imperfect are not interchangeable. In Spanish, the choice between these two tenses depends on the context and on the point of view of the speaker.

COMPARE & CONTRAST

Use the preterite to...

- Express actions that are viewed by the speaker as completed
Sandra se rompió la pierna.
Sandra broke her leg.
Fueron a Buenos Aires ayer.
They went to Buenos Aires yesterday.
- Express the beginning or end of a past action
La película empezó a las nueve.
The movie began at nine o'clock.
Ayer terminé el proyecto para la clase de química.
Yesterday I finished the project for chemistry class.
- Narrate a series of past actions or events
La doctora me miró los oídos, me hizo unas preguntas y escribió la receta.
The doctor looked in my ears, asked me some questions, and wrote the prescription.
Me di con la mesa, me caí y me lastimé el pie.
I bumped into the table, I fell, and I injured my foot.

Use the imperfect to...

- Describe an ongoing past action with no reference to its beginning or end Sandra esperaba al doctor.
Sandra was waiting for the doctor.
El médico se preocupaba por sus pacientes.
The doctor worried about his patients.
- Express habitual past actions and events
Cuando era joven, jugaba al tenis.
When I was young, I used to play tennis.
De niño, Eduardo se enfermaba con mucha frecuencia.
As a child, Eduardo used to get sick very frequently.
- Describe physical and emotional states or characteristics
La chica quería descansar. Se sentía mal y tenía dolor de cabeza.
The girl wanted to rest. She felt ill and had a headache.
Ellos eran altos y tenían ojos verdes.
They were tall and had green eyes.
Estábamos felices de ver a la familia.
We were happy to see our family.

AYUDA

These words and expressions, as well as similar ones, commonly occur with the preterite: ayer, entonces, una vez, dos veces, tres veces, el año pasado, de repente. They usually imply that an action has happened at a specific point in time.

AYUDA

These words and expressions, as well as similar ones, commonly occur with the imperfect: siempre, todos los días, siempre, siempre, con frecuencia, todas las semanas. They usually express habitual or repeated actions in the past.

VERIFICA

- The preterite and the imperfect often appear in the same sentence. In such cases the imperfect describes what was happening, while the preterite describes the action that "interrupted" the ongoing activity.

Miraba la tele cuando sonó el teléfono.
I was watching TV when the phone rang.

Felicía leía el periódico cuando llegó Ramiro.
Felicía was reading the newspaper when Ramiro arrived.

- You will also see the preterite and the imperfect together in narratives such as fiction, news, and the retelling of events. The imperfect provides background information, such as time, weather, and location, while the preterite indicates the specific events that occurred.

Eran las dos de la mañana y el detective ya no podía mantenerse despierto. Se bajó lentamente del coche, estiró las piernas y levantó los brazos hacia el cielo oscuro.
It was two in the morning, and the detective could no longer stay awake. He slowly stepped out of the car, stretched his legs, and raised his arms toward the dark sky.

La luna estaba llena y no había en el cielo ni una sola nube. De repente, el detective escuchó un grito espeluznante proveniente del parque.
The moon was full and there wasn't a single cloud in the sky. Suddenly, the detective heard a piercing scream coming from the park.

Un médico colombiano desarrolló una vacuna contra la malaria

En 1986, el doctor colombiano Manuel Elkin Patarroyo creó la primera vacuna sintética para combatir la malaria. Esta enfermedad parecía haberse erradicado hacia décadas en muchas partes del mundo. Sin embargo, justo cuando Patarroyo terminó de elaborar la inmunización, los casos de malaria empezaban a aumentar de nuevo. En mayo de 1993, el doctor colombiano cedió la patente de la vacuna a la Organización Mundial de la Salud en nombre de Colombia. Los grandes laboratorios farmacéuticos presionaron a la OMS porque querían la vacuna. Las presiones no tuvieron efecto y, en 1995, el doctor Patarroyo y la OMS pactaron continuar con el acuerdo inicial: la vacuna seguía siendo propiedad de la OMS.

Constructions with SE

4.3 Constructions with se

ANTE TODO In Lección 1 you learned how to use se as the third-person reflexive pronoun (El se despierta. Ellos se visten. Ella se baña.). Se can also be used to form constructions in which the person performing the action is not expressed or is de-emphasized.

Se + verb

In Spanish, verbs that are not reflexive can be used with se to form statements in which the person performing the action is not defined.

Se habla español en Costa Rica. Se puede leer en la sala de espera.
Spanish is spoken in Costa Rica. You can read in the waiting room.

Se hacen operaciones aquí. Se necesitan medicinas enseguida.
They perform operations here. They need medicine right away.

► ¡Atención! Note that the third person singular verb form is used with singular nouns and the third person plural form is used with plural nouns.

Se vende ropa. Se venden camisas.

► You often see se in signs, advertisements, and directions.

Se for unplanned events

► Se also describes accidental or unplanned events. In this construction, the person who performs the action is de-emphasized, implying that the accident or unplanned event is not his or her direct responsibility. Note this construction.

se + [INDIRECT OBJECT PRONOUN] + [VERB] + [SUBJECT]
Se me cayó la pluma.

AYUDA
 In English, the passive voice or indefinite subjects (since they aren't used where Spanish uses constructions with se).

VERIFICA

► In this type of construction, what would normally be the direct object of the sentence becomes the subject, and it agrees with the verb, not with the indirect object pronoun.

► These verbs are the ones most frequently used with se to describe unplanned events.

Verbs commonly used with se
caer	to fall; to drop	perder (e-ie)	to lose dañar	to damage;	quedar	to be left olvidar	to forget	romper	to break behind

Se me perdió el teléfono de la farmacia. Se nos olvidaron los pasajes.
I lost the pharmacy's phone number. We forgot the tickets.

► ¡Atención! While Spanish has a verb for to fall (caer), there is no direct translation for to drop. Dejar caer (To let fall) or a se construction is often used to mean to drop.
 El médico dejó caer la aspirina. A mi se me cayeron los cuadernos.
The doctor dropped the aspirin. I dropped the notebooks.

► To clarify or emphasize who the person involved in the action is, this construction commonly begins with the preposition a + [noun] or a + [prepositional pronoun].
Al paciente se le perdió la receta. A ustedes se les quedaron los libros en casa.
The patient lost his prescription. You left the books at home.

Adverbs

4.4 Adverbs

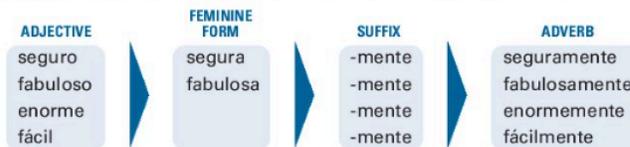

ANTE TODO

Adverbs are words that describe how, when, and where actions take place. They can modify verbs, adjectives, and even other adverbs. In previous lessons, you have already learned many Spanish adverbs, such as the ones below.

aquí	hoy	nunca
ayer	mal	siempre
bien	muy	temprano

- ▶ The most common adverbs end in -mente, equivalent to the English ending -ly.
verdaderamente truly, really generalmente generally simplemente simply
- ▶ To form these adverbs, add -mente to the feminine form of the adjective. If the adjective does not have a special feminine form, just add -mente to the standard form.
¡Atención! Adjectives do not lose their accents when adding -mente.

- ▶ Adverbs that end in -mente generally follow the verb, while adverbs that modify an adjective or another adverb precede the word they modify.

Maira dibuja maravillosamente.
Maira draws wonderfully.

Sergio está casi siempre ocupada.
Sergio is almost always busy.

Common adverbs and adverbial expressions

a menudo	often	así	like this; so	menos	less
a tiempo	on time	bastante	enough; rather	muchas	a lot; many
a veces	sometimes	casi	almost	veces	times
además (de)	furthermore; besides	con	frequently	poco	little
apenas	hardly; scarcely	frecuencia		por	at least
		de vez en cuando	from time to time	lo menos
		despacio	slowly	pronto	soon
				rápido	quickly

¡ATENCIÓN!

When a sentence contains two or more adverbs in sequence, the suffix -mente is dropped from all but the last adverb.

Ex. El médico nos habló simple y abiertamente. The doctor spoke to us simply and openly.

¡ATENCIÓN!

Rápido functions as an adjective (Ella tiene una computadora rápida) as well as an adverb (Ellas corren rápido). Note that as an adverb, rápido does not need to agree with any other word in the sentence. You can also use the adverb rápidamente (Ella corre rápidamente).

Familiar Commands

Familiar commands

ANTE TODO

In Spanish, the command forms are used to give orders or advice. You use tú commands (mandatos familiares) when you want to give an order or advice to someone you normally address with the familiar tú.

Affirmative tú commands

Infinitive

hablar guardar prender volver pedir imprimir

Present tense él/ella form

habla guarda prende vuelve pide imprime

Affirmative tú command

habla (tú)
guarda (tú)
prende (tú)
vuelve (tú)
pide (tú)
imprime (tú)

- ▶ Affirmative tú commands usually have the same form as the él/ella form of the present indicative.

Guarda el documento antes de cerrarlo. Imprime tu tarea para la clase de inglés.
Save the document before closing it. Print your homework for English class.

- ▶ The following verbs have irregular affirmative tú commands.

Irregular affirmative tú commands

decir
hacer ir poner

di haz
ve pon salir ser tener venir

sal sé ten ven

¡Sal ahora mismo!
Leave at once!

Haz los ejercicios.
Do the exercises.

- ▶ Since ir and ver have the same tú command (ve), context will determine the meaning.

Ve al cibercafé con Yolanda.
Go to the cybercafé with Yolanda.

Ve ese programa... es muy interesante.
See that program... it's very interesting.

¡Graba todo y ponlo en Internet!

¡No conduzcas tan rápido!

- ▶ The negative tú commands are formed by dropping the final -o of the yo form of the present tense. For -ar verbs, add -es. For -er and -ir verbs, add -as.

Negative tú commands

Infinitive	Present tense yo form	Negative tú command
hablar	hablo	no hables (tú)
guardar	guardo	no guardes (tú)
prender	prendo	no prendas (tú)
volver	vuelvo	no vuelvas (tú)
pedir	pido	no pidas (tú)

Héctor, no pares el carro aquí.
Héctor, don't stop the car here.

No prendas la computadora todavía.
Don't turn on the computer yet.

- ▶ Verbs with irregular yo forms maintain the same irregularity in their negative tú commands. These verbs include conducir, conocer, decir, hacer, ofrecer, oír, poner, salir, tener, traducir, traer, venir, and ver.

No pongas el disco en la computadora. No conduzcas tan rápido.
Don't put the disk in the computer. Don't drive so fast.

- ▶ Note also that stem-changing verbs keep their stem changes in negative tú commands.

No pierdas tu celular. No vuelvas a esa gasolinera. No repitas las instrucciones.
Don't lose your cell phone. Don't go back to that gas station. Don't repeat the instructions.

- ▶ Verbs ending in -car, -gar, and -zar have a spelling change in the negative tú commands.

sacar	c → qu	no saques
apagar	g → gu	no apagues
almorzar	z → c	no almuerces

- ▶ The following verbs have irregular negative tú commands.

Irregular negative tú commands

dar	▶	no des
estar		no estés
ir		no vayas
saber		no sepas
ser		no seas

Por and Para

5.2 Por and para

ANTE TODO Unlike English, Spanish has two words that mean for: por and para. These two prepositions are not interchangeable. Study the following charts to see how they are used.

► Por and para are most commonly used to describe aspects of movement, time, and action, but in different circumstances.

Por	Para
Movement
Through or by a place La excursión nos llevó por el centro. The tour took us through downtown.	Toward a destination Mis amigos van para el estadio. My friends are going to the stadium.
Time
Duration of an event Ana navegó la red por dos horas. Ana surfed the net for two hours.	Action deadline Tengo que escribir un ensayo para mañana. I have to write an essay by tomorrow.
Action
Reason or motive for an action or circumstance Llegué a casa tarde por el tráfico. I got home late because of the traffic.	Indication of for whom something is intended or done Estoy preparando una sorpresa para Eduardo. I'm preparing a surprise for Eduardo.

► Here is a list of the uses of por and para.

Por is used to indicate...
1. Movement: Motion or a general location... (around, through, along, by)	Pasamos por el parque y por el río. We passed by the park and along the river.
2. Time: Duration of an action (for, during, in)	Estuve en la Patagonia por un mes. I was in Patagonia for a month.
3. Action: Reason or motive for an action. . (because of, on account of, on behalf of)	Lo hizo por su familia. She did it on behalf of her family.
4. Object of a search (for, in search of)	Vengo por ti a las ocho. I'm coming for you at eight. Manuel fue por su cámara digital. Manuel went in search of his digital camera.
5. Means by which something is done . . . (by, by way of, by means of)	Ellos viajan por la autopista. They travel by (by way of) the highway.
6. Exchange or substitution (for, in exchange for)	Le di dinero por el cargador. I gave him money for the charger.
7. Unit of measure (per, by)	José manejaba a 120 kilómetros por hora. José was driving 120 kilometers per hour.

¡ATENCIÓN!

Por is also used in several idiomatic expressions, including por aquí around here por ejemplo for example por eso that's why; therefore por fin finally

AYUDA

Remember that when giving an exact time, de is used instead of por before la mañana, la tarde, or la noche.
La clase empieza a las nueve de la mañana.
. . . .
In addition to por, durante is also commonly used to mean for when referring to time.
Esperé al mecánico durante cincuenta minutos.

Para is used to indicate...

1. Movement: Destination (toward, in the direction of)	Salimos para Córdoba el sábado. We are leaving for Córdoba on Saturday.
2. Time: Deadline or a specific time in the future (by, for)	Él va a arreglar el carro para el viernes. He will fix the car by Friday.
3. Action: Purpose or goal + [infinitive] (in order to)	Juan estudia para (ser) mecánico. Juan is studying to be a mechanic.
4. Purpose + [noun] (for, used for)	Es una llanta para el carro. It's a tire for the car.
5. The recipient of something (for)	Compré una impresora para mi abuelo. I bought a printer for my grandfather.
6. Comparison with others or an opinion (for, considering)	Para un joven, es demasiado serio. For a young person, he is too serious. Para mí, esta lección no es difícil. For me, this lesson isn't difficult.
7. In the employment of (for)	Sara trabaja para Telecom Argentina. Sara works for Telecom Argentina.

► In many cases it is grammatically correct to use either por or para in a sentence. The meaning of the sentence is different, however, depending on which preposition is used.

Caminé por el parque.
I walked through the park.
Trabajó por su padre.
He worked for (in place of) his father.

Caminé para el parque.
I walked to (toward) the park.
Trabajó para su padre.
He worked for his father's company.

Reciprocal reflexives

5.3 Reciprocal reflexives

ANTE TODO

You have learned that reflexive verbs indicate that the subject of a sentence does the action to itself. Reciprocal reflexives (los reflexivos recíprocos), on the other hand, express a shared or reciprocal action between two or more people or things. In this context, the pronoun means (to) each other or (to) one another.

Luis y Marta se miran en el espejo.
Luis and Marta look at themselves in the mirror.

Luis y Marta se miran.
Luis and Marta look at each other.

- Only the plural forms of the reflexive pronouns (nos, os, se) are used to express reciprocal actions because the action must involve more than one person or thing.

Cuando nos vimos en la calle, nos abrazamos.

When we saw each other on the street, we hugged (one another).

Ustedes se van a encontrar en el cibercafé, ¿no?

You are meeting (each other) at the cybercafé, right?

Nos ayudamos cuando usamos la computadora.

We help each other when we use the computer.

Las amigas se saludaron y se besaron.

The friends greeted each other and kissed (one another).

¡ATENCIÓN!

Here is a list of common verbs that can express reciprocal actions:

- abrazar(se) to hug; to embrace (each other)
- ayudar(se) to help (each other)
- besar(se) to kiss (each other)
- encontrar(se) to meet (each other); to run into (each other)
- saludar(se) to greet (each other)

Stressed possessive adjectives and pronouns

5.4

Stressed possessive adjectives and pronouns

ANTE TODO

Spanish has two types of possessive adjectives: the unstressed (or short) forms you learned in Senderos 1 and the stressed (or long) forms. The stressed forms are used for emphasis or to express of mine, of yours, and so on.

Stressed possessive adjectives

Masculine singular	Feminine singular	Masculine plural	Feminine plural
mío	mía	míos	mías	my; (of) mine
tuyo	tuya	tuyos	tuyas	your; (of) yours (fam.)
suyo	suya	suyos	suyas	your; (of) yours (form.); his; (of) his; her; (of) hers; its
nuestro	nuestra	nuestros	nuestras	our; (of) ours vuestro	vuestra	vuestros	vuestras	your; (of) yours (fam.)
suyo	suya	suyos	suyas	your; (of) yours (form.); their; (of) theirs

- ▶ ¡Atención! Used with un/una, these possessives are similar in meaning to the English expression of mine/yours/etc.

Juancho es un amigo mío.
Juancho is a friend of mine.

Ella es una compañera nuestra.
She is a classmate of ours.

- ▶ Stressed possessive adjectives agree in gender and number with the nouns they modify. While unstressed possessive adjectives are placed before the noun, stressed possessive adjectives are placed after the noun they modify.

su impresora
her printer

nuestros televisores
our television sets

la impresora suya
her printer

los televisores nuestros
our television sets

- ▶ A definite article, an indefinite article, or a demonstrative adjective usually precedes a noun modified by a stressed possessive adjective.

Me encantan { algunos videos tuyos. I love some of your videos.
los videos tuyos. I love your videos.
estos videos tuyos. I love these videos of yours.

- ▶ Since suyo, suya, suyos, and suyas have more than one meaning, you can avoid confusion by using the construction: [article] + [noun] + de + [subject pronoun].

el teclado suyo

el teclado de él/ella/usted
 el teclado de ustedes/ellos/ellas

his/her/your keyboard
your/their keyboard

Relative Pronouns

6.1 Relative pronouns

ANTE TODO

In both English and Spanish, relative pronouns (pronombres relativos) are used to combine two sentences or clauses that share a common element, such as a noun or pronoun. Study this diagram.

Mis padres me regalaron la pintura.
My parents gave me the painting.

La pintura es muy bonita.
The painting is very beautiful.

La pintura que mis padres me regalaron es muy bonita.
The painting that my parents gave me is very beautiful.

Lourdes es muy inteligente.
Lourdes is very intelligent.

Lourdes estudia español.
Lourdes is studying Spanish.

Lourdes, quien estudia español, es muy inteligente.
Lourdes, who studies Spanish, is very intelligent.

La aspiradora que te compraste funciona muy bien.

- ▶ Spanish has three frequently used relative pronouns. ¡Atención! Even though interrogative words (qué, quién, etc.) always carry an accent, relative pronouns never carry a written accent.

que	that; which; who
quien(es)	who; whom; that
lo que	that which; what

- ▶ Que is the most frequently used relative pronoun. It can refer to things or to people. Unlike its English counterpart, that, que is never omitted.

¿Dónde está la cafetera que compré? El hombre que limpia es Pedro.
Where is the coffee maker (that) I bought? The man who is cleaning is Pedro.

- ▶ The relative pronoun quien refers only to people, and is often used after a preposition or the personal a. Quien has two forms: quien (singular) and quienes (plural).

¿Son las chicas de quienes me hablaste la semana pasada? Eva, a quien conocí anoche, es mi nueva vecina.
Are they the girls (that) you told me about last week? Eva, whom I met last night, is my new neighbor.

Formal (usted/ustedes)

6.2 Formal (usted/ustedes) commands

ANTE TODO

As you learned in Lección 5, the command forms are used to give orders or advice. Formal commands are used with people you address as usted or ustedes. Observe these examples, then study the chart.

Hable con ellos, don Francisco.
Talk with them, Don Francisco.

Laven los platos ahora mismo.
Wash the dishes right now.

Coma frutas y verduras.
Eat fruits and vegetables.

Beban menos té y café.
Drink less tea and coffee.

AYUDA

By learning formal commands, it will be easier for you to learn the subjunctive forms that are presented in Estructura 6.3, p. 222.

Formal commands (Ud. and Uds.)

Infinitive	Present tense yo form	Ud. command	Uds. command
limpiar	limpio	limpie	limpien
barrer	barro	barra	barran
sacudir	sacudo	sacuda	sacudan
decir (e:i)	digo	diga	digan
pensar (e:ie)	pienso	piense	piensen
volver (o:ue)	vuelvo	vuelva	vuelvan
servir (e:i)	sirvo	sirva	sirvan

- ▶ The usted and ustedes commands, like the negative tú commands, are formed by dropping the final -o of the yo form of the present tense. For -ar verbs, add -e or -en. For -er and -ir verbs, add -a or -an.

- ▶ Verbs with irregular yo forms maintain the same irregularity in their formal commands. These verbs include conducir, conocer, decir, hacer, ofrecer, oír, poner, salir, tener, traducir, traer, venir, and ver.

Oiga, don Manolo...
Listen, Don Manolo...

Ponga la mesa, por favor.
Set the table, please.

¡Salga inmediatamente!
Leave immediately!

Hagan la cama antes de salir.
Make the bed before leaving.

- ▶ Note also that verbs maintain their stem changes in usted and ustedes commands.

e:ie
No pierda la llave.
Cierren la puerta.

o:ue
Vuelva temprano, joven.
Duerman bien, chicos.

e:i
Sirva la sopa, por favor.
Repitan las frases.

AYUDA

It may help you to study the following five series of syllables. Note that within each series, the consonant sound doesn't change.

ca que qui co cu
za ce ci zo zu
ga gue gui go gu
ja ge gi jo ju

VERIFICA

- ▶ Verbs ending in -car, -gar, and -zar have a spelling change in the command forms.

sacar	c → qu	saque, saquen
jugar	g → gu	juegue, jueguen
almorzar	z → c	almuerce, almuercen

- ▶ These verbs have irregular formal commands.

Infinitive	Ud. command	Uds. command
dar	dé	den
estar	esté	estén
ir	vaya	vayan
saber	sepa	sepan
ser	sea	sean

- ▶ To make a formal command negative, simply place no before the verb.

No ponga las maletas en la cama. No ensucien los sillones.
Don't put the suitcases on the bed. Don't dirty the armchairs.

- ▶ In affirmative commands, reflexive, indirect, and direct object pronouns are always attached to the end of the verb.

Siéntense, por favor. Acuéstense ahora.
Sígame, Laura. Ponganlas en el suelo, por favor.

- ▶ ¡Atención! When a pronoun is attached to an affirmative command that has two or more syllables, an accent mark is added to maintain the original stress.

limpie → límpielo lean → léanlo
diga → dígamelo sacudan → sacúdanlos

- ▶ In negative commands, these pronouns always precede the verb.

No se preocupe. No los ensucien.
No me lo dé. No nos las traigan.

- ▶ Usted and ustedes can be used with the command forms to strike a more formal tone. In such instances, they follow the command form.

Muéstrele usted la foto a su amigo. Tomen ustedes esta mesa.
Show the photo to your friend. Take this table.

The Present Subjunctive

6.3 The present subjunctive

ANTE TODO

With the exception of commands, all the verb forms you have been using have been in the indicative mood. The indicative is used to state facts and to express actions or states that the speaker considers to be real and definite. In contrast, the subjunctive mood expresses the speaker's attitude toward events, as well as actions or states the speaker views as uncertain or hypothetical.

- ▶ The present subjunctive is formed very much like usted commands, ustedes commands, and negative tú commands. From the yo form of the present indicative, drop the -o ending, and replace it with the subjunctive endings.

- ▶ The present subjunctive endings are:

-ar verbs		-er and -ir verbs
-e	-emos	-a	-amos
-es	-éis	-as	-áis
-e	-en	-a	-an

Present subjunctive of regular verbs

AYUDA

Note that, in the present subjunctive, -ar verbs use endings normally associated with present tense -er and -ir verbs. Likewise, -er and -ir verbs in the present subjunctive use endings normally associated with -ar verbs in the present tense. Note also that, in the present subjunctive, the yo form is the same as the Ud./él/ella form.

¡LENGUA VIVA!

You may think that English has no subjunctive, but it does! While once common, it now survives mostly in set expressions such as If I were you... and Be that as it may...

- ▶ Verbs with irregular yo forms show the same irregularity in all forms of the present subjunctive.

Infinitive	Present indicative	Verb stem	Present subjunctive
conducir	conduzco	conduzc-	conduzca
conocer	conozco	conozc-	conozca

tener	tengo	teng-	tenga
traducir	traduzco	traduzc-	traduzca
traer	traigo	traig-	traiga
venir	vengo	veng-	venga
ver	veo	ve-	vea

- ▶ To maintain the c, g, and z sounds, verbs ending in -car, -gar, and -zar have a spelling change in all forms of the present subjunctive.

sacar: saque, saques, saque, saquemos, saquéis, saquen

jugar: juegue, juegues, juegue, juguemos, juguéis, jueguen

almorzar: almuerce, almuerces, almuerce, almorcemos, almorcéis, almuercen

Present subjunctive of stem-changing verbs

AYUDA

Note that stem-changing verbs and verbs that have a spelling change have the same ending as regular verbs in the present subjunctive.

- ▶ -Ar and -er stem-changing verbs have the same stem changes in the subjunctive as they do in the present indicative.

pensar (e:ie): piense, pienses, piense, pensemos, penséis, piensen mostrar (o:ue): muestre, muestres, muestre, mostremos, mostréis, muestren entender (e:ie): entienda, entiendas, entienda, entendamos, entendáis, entiendan

volver (o:ue): vuelva, vuelvas, vuelva, volvamos, volváis, vuelvan

- ▶ -Ir stem-changing verbs have the same stem changes in the subjunctive as they do in the present indicative, but in addition, the nosotros/as and vosotros/as forms undergo a stem change. The unstressed e changes to i, while the unstressed o changes to u.

pedir (e:i): pida, pidas, pida, pidamos, pidáis, pidan

sentir (e:ie): sienta, sientas, sienta, sintamos, sintáis, sientan
