

Want to incorporate gender into your research? Join us for a two-part webinar series on Gender in Development. Part 1 will review different theories of household decision-making and measures related to gender in development for applied gender research. Part 2 will provide a hands-on demonstration of the Women's Empowerment in Agriculture Index (WEAI).

The AIR Pipeline Partnership Program Africa in partnership with the University of Dar es Salaam, the University of Nairobi, and the African Economic Research Consortium (AERC) Presents:

Gender Analysis in Development I

Join Dr. Amber Peterman, Associate Research Professor at the University of North Carolina (UNC) and consultant at UNICEF, for a technical session on models of household decision-making and measurement issues around gender in development. Specific topics include: 1) unitary, bargaining, and collective models of household decision-making and implications for empirical analysis; 2) measurement of women's status, decision-making, agency and empowerment in development; and 3) illustrative examples of applied gender analysis in development.
