

New Feature for 2011-12 : Uploading Work Electronically

Dear Parents,

This year, the students and I are working to make our classroom as paperless as possible. I've created a private turn in location online for them to hand in their files. Paper files will continue to be accepted, but work can be uploaded to this site if preferred. Note: any given deadlines still apply.

To turn in their files they can go to <http://www.dropitto.me/frauwilson> and pick the file they want to upload. They should make sure they name it properly (we covered this in class) so that it will be graded with the other work at the same time and there will be no delay in entering their grade.

The password to upload is wissahickon. You may want to note this information in your files or bookmark the link on your home computer if you think they may want to turn in work from home.

As always, the class blogsite is also a great resource for important links, including documents pertaining to specific assignments, so this should be bookmarked as well: <http://deutschhilfe.blogspot.com/> Students can click on the DropItToFRAUWILSON link to go directly to the file upload option.

I look forward to learning with your student this year. Please contact me if you ever have any questions.

Sincerely,

Frau Nicole Perrine-Wilson
