

In this powerful message

, we're reminded that truth is not just a principle of a person - Jesus Christ Himself. The sermon delves into John 16:13 and John 14:6, emphasizing that the Spirit of Truth guides us into all truth. We're challenged to rely less on our own understanding and experiences led by the Holy Spirit. The message draws fascinating parallels between physical light (the sun) and spiritual light (the Son), showing how both are essential for life. As believers, we're encouraged to develop our spiritual senses to become more God-conscious rather than just world-conscious. This teaching urges us to ask: Are we truly allowing the Spirit to guide us, or are we stubbornly holding onto our own ways? It's a call to surrender and trust, reminding us that God's truth often defies natural understanding, yet always leads to freedom and life.

Title: Stick with the Truth: Being Led by the Spirit of Truth

Sermon Summary: This sermon emphasizes the importance of being led by the Spirit of Truth, which is synonymous with Jesus Christ. The pastor stresses that truth is not just a principle but a person, and believers must learn to submit to the Spirit's guidance in all aspects of life. He warns against relying solely on personal experiences or logical reasoning, as these can lead to self-righteousness and missing God's current direction.

Key Points:

- Truth is not just a principle, but a person (Jesus Christ)
- The Spirit of Truth guides believers into all truth
- Believers must learn to submit to the Spirit's guidance, even when it doesn't make logical sense
- Relying on personal experiences can lead to living in the past and missing God's current direction
- The Spirit speaks with clarity and purpose, revealing things to come
- Being led by the Spirit requires active submission, not passive acceptance
- Truth is better than facts and can defy natural laws

Scripture Reference:

- John 16:13
- John 14:6
- John 1:1-5
- Genesis 1:1-3

Stories:

- The pastor's father's experience at Tuskegee University, struggling for food and creating a network to survive
- Noah building the ark for an event he had never seen
- Peter walking on water as an example of truth defying facts
- Illustration of carrying a child vs. leading an adult to demonstrate the difference between passive and active submission to the Spirit's guidance