4 of Cups, Reversed

The new moon in Scorpio has you feeling more emotionally charged, Aries, and the Four of Cups reversed indicates that you are experiencing that as a spark of motivation. While you've recently felt stagnated and world-weary, you feel re-energized. Before you were focused on the negative aspects of the challenges you've been facing, but today you're feeling grateful for what you have and the lessons that they can teach you. Embrace your feelings of gratitude and they will help you to see all of the possibilities around you.

Taurus

Ace of Wands, Reversed

While you feel like you have a lot of creative energy, whenever you sit down to engage with it, you feel blocked and burned out. The severe burnout that you are feeling is impacting all the areas of your life, and has left you feeling unfocused and easily distracted. Take it step by step, Taurus. Re-engage by allowing yourself some space. Do something that you enjoy and inspires you. Build faith in yourself. Once you are able to reconnect with what inspires you, you'll see a lot of potential in your current situation.

Gemini

Ace of Pentacles

You're feeling that urge to invest in your future and put plans into motion that will result in some prosperous gains later. This could manifest in a lot of ways, Gemini, whether it's an actual financial investment or of beginning a long-term project or starting down a new path of potential. You recognize that there are rewards and possibilities - and you've decided that you want in!

The new moon in Scorpio is supercharging the emotional attachment you're feeling to the new path you're on, making it even more exciting and alluring.

Cancer

The Chariot, Reversed

You have a lot of energy, Cancer, and you feel like you could possibly move forward a lot more if you could just get a hold of everything. Things can feel out of control when focus is split, and consistency is more important for your progress than bursts of energy irregularly applied. Be disciplined and tactical in how you spend your time so you can control the momentum. Don't allow frivolities or temporary passions to distract you from your larger goals. Remember your convictions, and that being the fastest doesn't always mean being the winner.

Leo

5 of Swords

You're in a toxic environment, and it's making the fact that you feel like you've lost a big battle hurt all the more. Losing is challenging as it is, and even more so when you don't feel supported. You're probably feeling anxious, Leo. The bickering and backbiting you're surrounded by makes it worse, and you don't feel like you can properly process the defeat you're feeling. There's an important lesson in all of this. Once you get through your immediate situation, you might want to act on it by finding a healthier environment.

Virgo

5 of Cups, Reversed

You just can't seem to let go. You know that you should be able to move on and move forward with your life, but you also feel locked into a sense of mourning and loss over how things turned out. It's left you feeling disappointed and full of regret, Virgo. It's better to allow yourself to grieve what you lost and the dream you had about what could have been than to wrap yourself in the pessimistic cloak of becoming jaded. Once you've processed all that grief, you'll find it easier to move on.

Libra

6 of Cups

It can be powerful to revisit the past and find strength in our resilience, or to be able to trace just how far we've come and how much we've grown. Nostalgic thoughts seem especially entrancing today, Libra. Think over the hopes and dreams that you carried in the past, and see how they've evolved. It can also be an important touchstone, to remind ourselves of who we are by remembering where we came from. What moments does the word 'nostalgia' conjure? What have you learned since then, and how can it apply to you now?

Scorpio

8 of Swords

When you've been at the mercy of your inner critic for too long, it's easy to feel helpless and incapable, Scorpio. It can be hard to be brave and innovative when you feel exhausted from fighting your own cruel thoughts. Once things get going it can be hard to exit the doom-loop that self-doubt can cause. You are really deep in your feelings due to the new moon in your sign which is amplifying all those feelings. So, give yourself the same grace and kindness you'd give someone else. Take a moment and consider the stories you are telling yourself about yourself throughout the day. Start by rewriting any negative narratives into more empowering ones, and see how things change for you.

Sagittarius

6 of Pentacles

Charity includes an act of giving and an act of receiving. The Six of Pentacles indicates there's a charitable act coming your way, Sagittarius. You might be either the giver or the receiver. Regardless, center your compassion and open your heart. When giving, give what you can with no strings attached and be present for those who you are helping. When receiving, don't take more than you need. Generosity, gratitude, and compassion are all important parts of our human experience and are present in an act of charity.

Capricorn

King of Cups, Reversed

There are a lot of big feelings to work through right now, Capricorn, and you're in the thick of it. It's going to take you a lot of emotional and intellectual effort to process all that you're feeling about what's recently happened. There's a temptation to put your heart and mind on autopilot while things fall where they may, but you know that won't produce the emotional stability you're looking for. Give yourself the space and the time to work through what you need to, you'll be all the stronger for it.

Aquarius

10 of Pentacles, Reversed

It can be exciting to think thoughts that include words like 'legacy.' Wanting to share the wealth and create prosperity that has some permanence beyond our mortal experience is a lofty goal - but don't chase luxury to the point it causes strain on your relationships. Financial success doesn't have to mean creating an unhealthy attachment to wealth, and an obsession with creating a legacy might lead to long-term stability issues of the very family you're trying to preserve. Wealth can sometimes be a trap.

Pisces

Your energy is all over the place. You're enthusiastic yet full of creative angst, driven yet aimless. You have a lot of creative ambition, but you've also set yourself back with a lot of limiting beliefs and unnecessary self-criticism. Take a moment to take a step back and reassess. Think about what your original inspiration and motivation were. Try to see the world around you from the angle of potential and recognize that you are surrounded by learning opportunities that could ignite the fire of your ambition.
