

Pray (Angels of Death ED theme)

Translyrics by Caity Cat

My last memories of this world are so cold
Only needle and thread to sew up the seams
All of my wrongdoings, and the hate I hold
Even though I'm fighting now, where's that ending from my dreams?

An eerie blue moon lights up the night when I find it hard to cope
It reminds me even liars like me can find hope!

Hold onto my hand! Take me away, don't leave me alone!
You swore to god you'd free me of all my sins, promise me no clemency
Hey, remember that I'm breathing, even if my face looks like stone!
So please swiftly end the life of this lost soul, your promise is my remedy

Is it okay to pray for this upside-down dream, twisted as it may be?

Shrouded in darkness, my heart hides again
Words I'd wanted to say, seemed to die before I knew
Our oath has become clouded by a strange pain
Now I've started railing against it; are you? What can I do?

Suddenly your reliance on me starts to bring my pulse alive
To drown this despair, we first have to survive!

You can't give up! I swear I'll save you on my own!
Just accept yourself as you are right now, open your eyes and see
Don't fight against me, hey! We have to heal so we can atone!
With your love you can fulfill your ideals, please, I want you to be free

As I sink, as I sink deep into the sea, I drown within this dream

In the mirror, these two fake, blue moons~ lifelessly gazing back at me, they look as deep as the sea
All these distorted smiles, let's rip them apart at the seams!

Hey...if I can try to comprehend...
Will nobody have to cry for me again?

Will it all truly end?

Hey, is it... okay if I decide to vanish?
Will I ever feel better someday? Can I-help you with these weak hands?

Hold onto my hand! Take me away, don't leave me alone!
You vowed that you'd free me of all my sins, promise me no clemency
Hey, remember that I'm breathing, even if my face looks like stone!
So please swiftly end the life of this lost soul, your promise is my remedy

Is it okay to pray for this upside-down dream, twisted as it may be?
As I sink, as I sink deep inside a dream... I'm drowning in the sea...
