

Glenn Campbell:

Home Overview Photos Videos Media Philosophy Past Google+ Twitter Facebook

Location: Ufomind Mailing List > 1998 > Nov > Here

Τέλος φόρμας

Re: Something is terribly wrong with Anunnaki Tech

From: Brian Zinkle <bzinkle@mwmt.net>
Date: Sun, 8 Nov 1998 15:23:45 -0800

Re: <http://www.ufomind.com/misc/1998/nov/d04-002.shtml>

Ufoseek@AOL.COM <Ufoseek@AOL.COM> November 04, 1998 6:30 AM wrote:

>Why couldn't they just "transmute" another base metal into gold, since they >were so "advanced"? If the alchemists of the middle ages allegedly could do >this, then to such an advanced race as the Anunnaki, this would be child's >play. They could have produced all the gold they needed through some type of >technologically advanced energy to element conversion process.
>
>I think this discrepancy is a very serious flaw in Mr. Sitchin's work. His >entire series of books over stresses the importance of gold to the Anunnaki.

The process is called fusion. It takes a tremendous amount of energy to fuse a lighter element into gold. Or you could use fission and work down from some heavier element, again, this takes enormous energies. The reasons for this are beyond the scope of this discussion, but the facts are well established. Other "low energy" techniques may be possible, but until we know about them that is merely speculation, and cannot be used as "proof" that Sitchin (or anyone else) is wrong about anything.

That the Alchemists said that they converted lead to gold does not mean the actually accomplished it. They are also said to have grown miniature human beings (homunculi) using techniques that seem highly unlikely to accomplish anything. Their methods were not merely chemical, they were also astrological and magical, fields of knowledge that are generally not considered "super-science". Arguing that Sitchin is wrong because Anunnaki should have been able to manufacture gold out of corn-flakes (or some other material) if the Alchemists were able to convert base metals to gold, is like saying the Cubs can't win the World Series because the Packers have already won the Super Bowl (just examples, please lets not start a sports thread!). They are different fields of endeavor entirely. Not to mention that the accomplishments of either group under discussion are poorly understood at best.

> Somehow the idea that an technologically advanced > race of beings would need slaves to mine for gold seems incongruous and > non-sequitur.

If the exact technical capabilities of the Anunnaki were know, we might be able to make judgments like this. However, nothing certain is know about them (assuming their existence for the moment), what little that is "know" is from the translation of ancient records which were based on the beliefs of people living in those times. Whether or not those beliefs were based on direct contact or had been passed along as verbal history is an important issue.

Additionally, can we be certain that the Anunnaki were entirely truthful and open in their disclosures to humanity, who they allegedly previously tried to destroy? Would slave owners be concerned at all what they said as long as the slaves did what was required of them?. Gold could have many uses besides the rather odd use that Sitchin derives from the texts. Indeed, the primary practical use of gold is for electronics. Obviously, just as the First World countries rely heavily on Third World countries for labor and resources in our present economy, so we should not be surprised if slave labor was used by "Ancient Astronauts" as long as it got the job done according to their time table.

The ultimate point I am trying to make is that whatever the ancient records say, they cannot be taken as absolute truth, but neither should they simply be ignored if they fail to match our preconceived notions.

Brian Zinkle
bzinkle@mwt.net

```
+-----+
|                UFOMIND MAILING LIST                |
|    Supporting the World's Largest Paranormal Website    |
|    www.ufomind.com      Moderator: Glenn Campbell      |
|                                                        |
| Archived at: http://www.ufomind.com/misc/ |
| Submissions to: ufomind@lists.best.com                |
| "unsubscribe" (in body) to: ufomind-request@lists.best.com |
+-----+
```

RELEVANCE OF THIS MESSAGE: Response to previous

Index: Zecharia Sitchin (#18)

Ufomind Mailing List > 1998 > Nov > Here
Our Design and Original Text Copyrighted © 1994-99 Area 51 Research Center
PO Box 30303, Las Vegas, NV 89173 Glenn Campbell, Webmaster & Moderator

This site is supported by the Aliens on Earth Bookstore
Please visit our business if you appreciate our free web services. New Items

Send corrections to webmaster@ufomind.com
This page: <http://www.aliensonearth.com/misc/1998/nov/d08-002.shtml> (10/6/11 15:50)
We encourage you to link to this page from your own. No permission required.

Created: Nov 8, 1998