

Summer Assignment ~ Reading
Students Entering 7th Grade

Double Journal Entries - please make a copy of this document, which will automatically save to your school Google Drive. Please do not save this using your personal Google Drive.

Essential Question: What can blur the lines between what's real and what's not?

Directions: Please respond each time you read independently. The purpose of this journal is to get you thinking about what you read; please do not summarize the text. Instead, focus more on how you reacted to what you read, interpreted what you read, or connected with what you read. Credit is earned for authentic submissions; the quality of your thinking is weighted more than the quantity of your writing. Your entries should span page numbers from the entire book. Please complete all ten entries.

Type Your Name Here			Planet Middle School
Count	Page #	Copy the words, short quotes, or passages that show one of the characters in your novel that was finding it difficult to understand what was real and what was not?	Reaction, interpretation, or response to the text segment (How does this show what's real and what's not?)
1
2
3
4
5
6
7

8
9
10			