Good afternoon everyone,

Today, I want to talk about a simple but special dish—my mom's homemade tomato and egg stir-fry.

It may look ordinary, just eggs, tomatoes, and a little seasoning. But to me, it means much more. Every time I come home, the warm smell from the kitchen reminds me of love and comfort. My mom always says that cooking is her way of taking care of our family, and this dish is her signature.

The tomatoes are slightly sweet and sour, and the eggs are soft and fluffy. When they come together, the taste is perfect—just like how my mom balances everything in our family.

Even though I can eat many delicious foods outside, nothing can compares to this simple dish.

Because it's not just food—it's a taste of home.

Thank you.
